NO. 50—SEVENTY-SECOND YEAR

BATTLESHIP HOLIDAY IS NOW LIKELY

Is One of Chief Problems on Which Naval Conference Is Now Devoting Its Efforts

NEW COMPROMISE ON TONNAGE PROBABLE

U.S. Proposes Parity Between Great Britain and States Should Be Realized Immediately

By GEORGE HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Two projects, apart from the suggested "humanization" of the submarine, emerged from today's naval conference discussions. They were:

1. A five years' battleship building holiday, extending the Washington Treaty to 1936.

2. A compromise, welding the British and French compromises on rival theories of limitation, by global tonnage as against limitation by categories.

The battleship holiday extension was widely discussed before the conference met. It had not yet been submitted to the conference proper, but it is receiving attention in the discussions between the various delegations.

DISCUSS COMPROMISE
The compromise of the British and French proposals was discussed in the meeting of the first committee of the conference this afternoon. Italy renewed her general reservations, calling for recognition of parity with France. But the atmosphere of the meeting was described as generally being much more satisfactory than yesterday, when the demand was made for more speed.

"Yesterday," commented one naval adviser, "they agreed to disagree. Today they agreed to agree."

To the layman, however, the compromise, so far as it is made available, appears to be little more than a bewildering maze of words. The concrete fact apparently is that the special subcommittee of experts appointed to meet tomorrow will view the preparation of some actual figures of limitation.

According to semi-official information, they will work toward an eventual agreement under which they will lay down the global tonnage of each nation, and at the same time embody a table under which each power will have divided its total tonnage between the various classes of ships. Such an agreement would leave Britain, the United States and Japan free to proceed with the determination of relative naval strengths, maintaining their own equilibrium.

QUESTION EFFECTS
Similarly, France and Italy are raising doubt in current comment as to whether agreement would mean any reduction in existing navies, taken generally. The report continued on Page 2, Column 5.

Attacks Bishops Who Break Laws

LORD CUSHENDUN

Former Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs in the Baldwin Government, attacked the bishops of the Church of England at a recent meeting in London. He stated that the Church Assembly is entirely unrepresentative of the church as a whole, and went further to declare that in his experience "there are many laymen who are completely spiritual and many bishops who are decidedly not."

NEW REGIME INAUGURATED ON PRAIRIES

New Anderson Government Opens Its First Business Session Since Last Dramatic Fight

LIBERALS ON LEFT FOR FIRST TIME

REGINA, Sask., Feb. 6.—Suggestion that the province's natural resources may be returned to its administration in the very near future, was the dominant note struck in the speech from the Throne, delivered at the opening of the second session of the Seventh Legislature of Saskatchewan this afternoon.

The House was formally opened by his Hon. Lieut.-Governor W. S. Newlands, in the presence of the members, officials, judges, and of an extremely large number of visitors who occupied all available space on the floor and in the galleries.

LARGE CROWDS PRESENT
Outside in the corridors, too, were many hundreds who were unable to gain admission to the chamber. Even- ing was evident an atmosphere of excitement, which in all likelihood will prove a strenuous and dramatic one, not under way.

Mr. R. S. Leslie, Progressive member for Weyburn, was the unanimous choice of the members for Speaker. Mr. Leslie in the election last June defeated Hon. G. M. Hamilton, former provincial Minister of Agriculture, and now a member of the Board of Grain Commissioners.

Mr. Taft Is Reported to Be Improved

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The condition of Mr. William Howard Taft was pronounced "satisfactory" at midnight tonight by Dr. Thomas A. Clayton, one of his physicians.

The physician said the former President and Chief Justice of the United States went to sleep about 8 o'clock tonight and was still asleep when he called at midnight. Mr. Taft was not disturbed by the doctor, who called merely to see how his patient was progressing.

HORSEMEN DECLARE THE LAW'S AN ASS

TORONTO, Feb. 6.—Dissatisfaction in the Canadian horse world over the importation of purebred horses was voiced at the annual meeting of the Canadian Thoroughbred Horse Society yesterday. Existing regulations which required a person who purchased a foreign thoroughbred at any fair in Canada to send the animal back to the point of origin and reimport it before ownership was recognized, were described as most assinine.

Six Men Killed In Explosion in Utah Coal Mines

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 7.—Six men were killed in an explosion in a coal mine at Standardville, Utah, late last night, according to messages received here by the Standard Coal Company, owners of the property. The fate of nearly a score of other men in the mine at the time of the explosion was not determined.

Labor Government of Britain Much Worried at "Ides of March"

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The British Cabinet is more worried today over the general situation of the Empire than about the outcome of the Five-Power Naval Conference. As far as the ministers are concerned, the conference will result in some agreement that must mean substantial "saving" for the treasury, as they are convinced that Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, who has his utmost to reach an accord, will do so.

But the "Ides of March" for the British Government really extend much later. Those portentous days will come in April, when Chancellor of the Exchequer Philip Snowden introduces the new budget, which, it is believed, will show a heavy deficit; they will come some time in March or April when the Indian Nationalists put into effect their threat of civil disobedience, and some time early in May when the Arabs and the Egyptians are expected to start serious trouble.

According to alarming figures on unemployment issued by the Ministry of Labor, there are 1,400,000 idle in this country today—nearly 100,000 more than at the same time last year. This total is likely to increase during the month, according to Rt. Hon. signs of improvement.

Also, the increase in unemployment insurance, and in pensions is draining the treasury, while the unsatisfactory trade returns are substantially reducing income tax payments. Chancellor Snowden, less than a week from his resignation, is having sleepless nights wondering how to balance the budget and obtain funds to fill the inevitable deficit.

Sidney Spit Is Set Aside for Public Reserve

The Sidney Spit, together with a part of the adjacent island, is to be reserved as a public resort. It has long been popular with picnic parties, particularly for launch parties from Sidney, and being in the channel of travel for steamers between Victoria and Vancouver, is widely known to Coast residents.

Colonel C. W. Peck, V.C., M.P., has interested himself in the matter.

WANT DATA ON VARIOUS PROPOSALS

"Reservation" of Confidential Information Appears to Annoy Opposition

RETURNS COVER EXTENSIVE FIELD
Dr. Gaddes' Appointment Censured by Opposition Leader, and Also Salary Paid to Commissioner

THE Opposition in the Legislature yesterday launched a long series of resolutions asking for a return of the House to be made covering a number of matters connected with administration and also pertaining to transactions that have occupied the attention of the Government, or commissions appointed by the Government, during the recess.

The movers of these resolutions met with a ready acquiescence on the part of the Prime Minister to bring down all the papers connected with the subject matter of the resolutions, with the saving clause on the part of the promise made by Dr. Toulme that it should be "with the usual reservations."

MEANING OF RESERVATIONS
This latter phrase was one that gave Mr. T. D. Pattullo and others on the Liberal side of the House a good deal of concern. They were informed by the Premier that all that he meant by such a reservation was that it embraced matters which might be regarded as of a confidential character at the present stage of the proceedings.

As the Premier persisted in adding this reservation the Opposition became more exasperated and took the position that there was no reservation that the Prime Minister could make. They took the ground that the Government was the servant of the members of the House, and that all would have to be produced.

In the end the position was taken that there was never any such position assumed by the Government of the Liberal party. This was met by the warning from the Government benches, notably from Hon. R. L. Maitland and Mr. H. D. Twigg, that they had better be less ready with their protests along this line. Mr. Maitland intimated that the late Government refused the information.

HOSPITAL LEVY FROM SAANICH INSUFFICIENT

Director McGregor and Secretary Muir Tell Saanich Patients Cost

Addressing the Saanich Council at the invitation of its members, Mr. George McGregor, representative of the municipality on the Royal Jubilee Hospital Board, with the difficulties under which the hospital was operating. The average cost per patient per day was now $3.86, towards which the Government contributed seventy cents, and the municipality so much on a set scale. Saanich was billed with a per capita cost of seventy cents per day per patient.

The cost of patients from the different municipalities adjacent to Victoria were segregated. Saanich patients had cost the hospital $3.47, of which $3.08 had been received from all sources, leaving a loss of thirty-nine cents per patient. The total loss chargeable to Saanich patients amounted to $16,000.

Constant Questioning Gains Little Information as to Others Connected With Him

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 6.—Police and military authorities tonight held approximately a score of persons under arrest after a joint investigation into the attempted assassination of President Ortiz Rubio, shortly after the inaugural ceremonies yesterday.

Daniel Flores, the well-dressed, quiet young man who fired six shots from a .38-calibre revolver into the Presidential car, wounding the President in the cheek and jaw, was constantly questioned during the day at the military prison. The military authorities endeavored to get at the bottom of what they believed to have been a well-prepared plot against Ortiz Rubio.

Flores maintained a defiant attitude and insisted that he alone had planned and executed the assassination attempt.

The exact number of persons detained and their names were not divulged, but a young woman and a young man connected with the headquarters staff of the "Vasconcelista," or anti-re-electionist party, during the Presidential campaign, were said to be among them. The Vasconcelista were the opponents of Ortiz Rubio's party at the last November election.

General Milojas Palacios, chief of police, this afternoon made public part of the recent information that has been obtained from Flores by constant questioning.

General Palacios said that Flores, when asked if he had a father, had evaded giving any clue to his identity or his past.

EVADES QUESTIONS
"Everyone is supposed to have a father, isn't he?" Flores said. "What is your father's name?" he was then asked. "I don't know."

After blocking the progress of this kind of cross-examination for a while, Palacios said, Flores remarked:

"To show you how clever your detectives are I want to make you a little present."

Thereupon he extracted from his sleeve six revolver cartridges the detectives had not found.

The authorities believe that Flores was born and raised in the State of San Luis Potosi and that his family still lives there. Detectives are conducting a complete investigation in that state.

SECOND OPERATION
(Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 6.—President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico, underwent a second operation this morning to remove a piece of splintered bone from his jaw, but came out of the anaesthetic in good shape. It was learned tonight that his doctors insisted that his condition was good.

Lieut.-Col. Chazaro, the President's private secretary, said this afternoon that former President Calles, Secretary Fortes Gil and the other members of the Cabinet had seen Ortiz Rubio today, but only at a distance. The President's doctors strictly ordered that no one should be allowed to talk with him.

The auditorium committee of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce will seek an appointment with the City Council on Monday next to discuss the setting of a site upon Belleville Street, situated between Douglas and Blanshard Streets, for the construction of a combined auditorium and skating arena.

It has been decided by the chamber's committee to ask the City Council to consent with regard to a proposal to approach the Canadian Pacific Railway in the matter of building and operation.

The site which the chapter desires the city authorities to have set aside for the combined auditorium and skating arena building is situated on Belleville Street, immediately south of the Crystal.

Lieut.-Governor To Dine Officers Who Went First

TWENTY-FOUR men, Western remnants of the gallant body of Canadian officers who landed in France fifteen years ago this month, will be guests of Hon. R. R. Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor, at a dinner here on Saturday night.

Instituted by Brigadier-General V. W. Odlum, three years ago, this dinner and reunion has become an annual event, commemorating the landing of the first Canadian division in France early in February, 1915. The gathering is confined exclusively to men who landed as officers with the First Division and does not take into consideration those who attained commissioned rank later.

MR. DUNNING IS SILENT ON TAXES TOPIC

Declares He Is Low Tariff Man and That Conservatives Still Hold to High Protection

CLAIMS CREDIT FOR RETURN OF DOMAIN

REGINA, Feb. 6.—Disbelief that increased tariffs for Canada, as advocated by the Conservative party, would solve the problems of the Dominion, and in particular eliminate the seasonal difficulties of unemployment, was expressed here tonight by Hon. Charles A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, making his first public address since his appointment to the post left vacant at the death of Hon. James A. Robb.

TARIFF QUESTION
General increase in the Canadian tariff would not be a remedy for all ills, said Mr. Dunning. "The experience of other countries prove conclusively the fallacy of this idea," he said, quoting the United States and Australia, high protection countries, as an example. The former at present having no less than 3,000,000 unemployed, and the latter 150,000 jobless workers.

"In fact, Canada, with its more moderate tariff, has much less unemployment today than either the United States or Australia," said the Finance Minister, adding: "The Liberal policy of adjustments up or down, depending upon a careful study of all the factors involved and having regard only to the interests of the people."

Labor Wins Brightside By-Election

SHEFFIELD, Eng., Feb. 6.—Labor retained the Brightside division of Sheffield in today's by-election which was necessitated by the elevation of Mr. A. W. Ponsonby to the Peerage.

Alderman F. Marshall, intimately associated with the local trades movement, was elected with 11,543 votes. Mr. Hamer Russell, Conservative, received 8,612 votes; Mr. W. A. Lambert, Liberal, received 3,650, and Mr. J. T. Murphy, Communist, 1,094 votes. The standing in the House was thus unchanged.

Ponsonby had been elected in the general election with 20,777 votes to 9,828 for Commander E. Money, Conservative, and 6,612 for Mr. W. A. Lambert, Liberal.

Railway Given Damages From Driver of Car

YAKIMA, Wash., Feb. 6.—For the first time in the history of the Superior Court here a railroad company today was awarded damages from a driver of a motor car which crashed into a train.

The car of George Hayes, of Sunnyside, struck a Union Pacific train near Midvale last summer. The railroad company was given $483 damages for the injury Hayes' car sustained to the train by a Superior Court jury.

GIRL STOPPED EN ROUTE HOME

While city police are today searching for an unknown person who fired a shot from a .22 rifle into the windshield of Mr. T. Johnston's car at 5:20 o'clock last night, as he was about to turn at the intersection of Vancouver Street and Burdett Avenue, efforts are being made to locate an unidentified man who accosted a young woman on Brett Avenue, Swan Lake district, Wednesday night.

These events are believed to have sequence to the burglarizing of homes in Greater Victoria during the last few months.

City police, on being informed of the shooting affair by Mr. Johnston, Rockland Place, Rockland Avenue, immediately visited the vicinity, but failed to find any trace of the owner of the rifle.

How to "Humanize" Submarines Gives Delegates Difficult Task

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Agreement to "humanize" submarine warfare lies in the offering in the Naval Conference. An agreement to abolish the underwater weapon is regarded as practically out of the question, so far as the present conference is concerned. Great Britain and America want its abolition; France and Japan are opposed, regarding it as the "poor man's battleship."

As a halfway course the British, Americans and French now seem to be drawing together on agreement that submarines will not be used for such campaigns against merchant ships as were carried out by Germany in the world war.

The conversations along these lines are already under way among the "Big Five"—the heads of the delegations—and next Tuesday's plenary sitting will be devoted to the submarine.

Mr. Cecil Tice Tells Rotarians That Chief Handicap of District Is Lack of Transportation

FARMERS SEEKING PACIFIC OUTLET

"The Peace River district is a country, to my mind, for the young man of good health and capable of hard work. I would also recommend any person going in there to settle as close as possible to the other fellow, and not to spread out. Co-operation is needed, and the only way to bring it about is for people to be settled close to each other," declared Mr. Cecil Tice, provincial agronomist, in speaking to the Rotary Club yesterday on impressions which he had gleaned in a trip last summer on Government business in the Peace River district. Rotarians were optimistic and hospitable, and represented various nationalities. There were a great many people from across the United States and the Prairie Provinces.

"However blessed a country may be with fertile soil, a wonderful climate and boundless natural resources, its progress depends upon the character of its people. Canada has long been noted for the courage, optimism and resourcefulness of her farmers; and nowhere in Canada is a finer group of settlers to be found than in this newest of great agricultural empires. On every farm one sees evidence of it from the oldest 'old-timer' to the newest newcomer," stated Mr. Tice, who also paid tribute to the pioneer settlers of the district.

GREAT POSSIBILITIES
The speaker said that he left the Peace River country with a conviction that it possessed tremendous possibilities for agriculture and other lines of endeavor. At the same time he didn't think it desirable to overstate them.AMPHION HALL able that people should run in there as many often do without obtaining all the information possible beforehand, because in every new country there were problems and hardships to face.

The chief handicap at the present time to the proper development of the British Columbia section of the Peace River district was the lack of a railroad. The settlers were evidencing the keenest interest in the transportation question, and were seeking an outlet to the Pacific Coast. "Most of the trade of the Peace River district eventually belongs to British Columbia," Mr. Tice claimed.

Mr. Tice said that lack of adequate transportation in that section had been of benefit in one respect in that it had encouraged mixed farming. He expressed the hope that with improved transportation facilities and increased production of grain, mixed farming would not fall into the discard as it had done in many parts of the Prairie provinces.

FERTILITY OF SOIL

"As one travels through the territory, one is struck with the high fertility of the soil and the excellent crops. One of the first operations of the new settler is land-breaking, and hundreds of acres of land have been put under the plough for the first time this year. Some of the finest livestock and horses, many of which are purebred, exist in the Peace River district. Wheat and oats are the chief crops grown, although considerable barley, rye and some flax are produced. Rooks do well and alfalfa has been grown quite successfully. Considerable hay, consisting of brome and Western rye grass, is grown. Crops are generally sure and it is only occasionally that frost does any appreciable damage," the speaker pointed out.

The clubmen tendered Mr. Tice a hearty vote of thanks for his instructive discourse.

collect outstanding debts, collection charges amounted to 25 per cent. People who could pay frequently did not.

The speakers agreed that the hospital was supplying a high standard of service, and, whether patients could afford to pay or not, there was no distinction in connection with the treatment. Illness was a misfortune, and it seemed that the poor were more liable to its attacks than those who could better afford to be ill. Between 225 and 250 patients were inmates of the hospital daily. At the end of the year the Jubilee Hospital owed Victoria merchants over $45,000 for supplies, and these merchants were most patient.

For equipment, people were always ready to donate any reasonable amount, but they expected the Government and the municipalities to pay for the treatment of patients who could not pay for themselves. Concluding, Mr. McGregor stated that seventy cents was not enough from Saanich, and he expected that the amount would be increased.

Anderson, Premier of Saskatchewan, and all the other members of the Government of Conservatives, Progressives and Independents were a red flower in their coats.

Hon. Charles A. Dunning, Federal Minister of Finance, Regina's representative in Parliament and ex-Premier of Saskatchewan, occupied a seat beside the Opposition group, immediately to the left of Mr. Speaker, as a distinguished guest.

Immediately after the Speaker took the chair, His Honor entered the chamber and read the Speech from the Throne, forecasting several important pieces of legislation which the Government intended to bring before the House.

SPEECH FROM THRONE

The resources question was introduced almost at the outset of the address. "You will soon be pleased to know," was the pronouncement, "that my Government has approached the Federal Government with a view to securing control of our natural resources, and there is every reason to expect that in the near future our province will be called upon to administer these resources in the best interests of our people. Undoubtedly industrial development resulting from the manufacture within our province of our own natural products will provide a solution to the unemployment problem that yearly calls for our consideration."

Matters which have been subjects of official pronouncement by members of the Government since the special session of last September when it took office, were then dealt with briefly. These included projected changes in Saskatchewan's educational system, an energetic roads policy, improved health conditions, including research work in view of the campaign against cancer, and the problem of the mentally afflicted, a consanguinity of the farm loans scheme, civil service reform, power, plans to cope with the weed menace, and projected public building.

Reference was made also to proposed legislation in connection with the official guardianship of infants, "reducing expenses to the minimum" in their administration. Following the reading of the address, His Honor and his retinue left the chamber, and certain formal motions were then put to the House. On the motion of Premier Anderson, seconded by Hon. Dr. H. Stipe, the time for consideration of the Speech from the Throne was set for Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

PARIS ANGRY OVER SOVIET POLICE CASE

Demanding Investigation Into Mysterious Disappearance of Russian General

CITY HAS REACHED END OF PATIENCE

PARIS, Feb. 6.—The Government is carrying on a quiet investigation into reports that the Secret Service of Soviet Russia is acting independently here in violation of French sovereignty. The investigation is an outgrowth of the disappearance here of General Alexander Paul Koutieff. Charges have been made that the general, leader of the White Russians and the successor to the Grand Duke Nicholas, was kidnapped by Soviet police.

MAY MAKE MOVE

Should the accusations of secret activity be proven, it is presumed the Government would make an official move. Meanwhile, there are no indications that the Government is perturbed by dispatches from Moscow based on Soviet views that relations between France and Russia are strained. Several newspapers are urging action. Le Matin says that nine-tenths of the French people would be glad to see Soviet diplomats leave. La Liberté said today: "Paris has reached the end of its patience."

An anonymous letter received today by police said the body of General Koutieff would be found in Meudon Woods, west of Paris. The woods have been carefully searched, but nothing was found to bear out the letter.

General Koutieff has now been missing for just less than a fortnight. On Sunday, January 20, he went for a walk to the Russian Officers' Club, near his home, and did not return.

REV. M. W. J. BRUCE

Close upon one hundred members attended the annual meeting of the British Public Schools Club which was held in the club premises on Langley Street last night. Mr. N. W. Marrie, the retiring president of the club, handed over the reins of office to Rev. M. W. J. Bruce, at the same time expressing his thanks to the members for their support during the past year.

Mr. Bruce thanked the members present for electing him to the position of president and introduced Mr. C. C. Cooper as the new vice-president. Amid hearty applause Mr. P. Fletcher, the original president of the club, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Purrie, and also to Mr. Duncan B. McLaren, the secretary, for his untiring energy in the interests of the club. Mr. William Mackay seconded Mr. Fletcher's motion, which was carried unanimously. Mr. McLaren, in a few words, expressed his thanks and appreciation.

In making his annual report, Mr.

STEAL CAR WHILE OWNER ENTERTAINS IN APARTMENT

While Mr. William Craig, 400 Boleyn Road, and his family were entertaining friends in their upstairs apartment, automobile thieves stole his car, which was parked in front of his grocery store. Going downstairs at 10:30 o'clock for the purpose of putting the automobile away, Mr. Craig discovered the car missing.

"Why are you and your little sister always quarrelling?"

"I don't know, dad; unless she 'sneaks after mother and I take after you.'"

EMPIRE SECURITY

The British Conservative Party's attitude on a reduction in naval armaments was recently set forth by Lord Bridgeman, who was First Lord of the Admiralty in the last Conservative Government. That attitude is important because it represents what the followers of the largest political party in Great Britain are thinking. An erroneous view prevails that Mr. Ramsay MacDonald is interpreting British opinion; what he is doing is portraying his Government's attitude, and even that attitude is a wavering one because he has changed his opinions and his methods of approaching the problem again and again since the Naval Conference went into session.

The Conservatives of Great Britain emphasize that their country is the only one depending for its existence on the free passage of the seas for raw materials and food. There is the fact to be considered that the British Empire extends throughout the globe. Lord Bridgeman draws attention to the estimate of the French Naval Committee as to the requirements of the different nations, based on territory, length of coasts, length of communications, external trade and seaborne trade. This estimate gives Great Britain a navy more than twice as powerful as that of the next greatest naval power. If, says Lord Bridgeman, that is the measure of our responsibilities and obligations, "we do not need to be ashamed to ask that we should have the power and the strength to sustain them."

The former First Lord points out that Great Britain has made far larger reductions in her naval forces since the Great War than any other country. Because she has done so much is used as an argument by her rivals that she should do more. Lord Bridgeman sees no assurance in the cruiser reductions ordered by Mr. Ramsay MacDonald. No valuable consideration of any kind has been forthcoming from any other power in response to this gesture. In other words, Great Britain, since the present Naval Conference commenced, has reduced the potential strength of her navy and has got nothing in return. Not only that, but Great Britain has also slowed down work on the Singapore Naval Base without any response from any other country. The question is how far Great Britain is expected to go in sacrificing her naval strength. Unquestionably the views of Lord Bridgeman are held by a large number of persons throughout the British realm who see in the first great "Disarmament Conference" the prime factor of fleet reduction, and yet it is upon command of the seas that British vitality and well being rest. Lord Bridgeman's views were expressed at a meeting of the British Navy League, which passed the two following resolutions:

"That, in order to ensure the defence and security of the coast lines and trade routes of the Empire, Great Britain should be free to fix her own standard of naval needs and that in the Five-Power Conference no reduction in ships, tonnage and personnel should be agreed to which would in any way lower the standard of Imperial safety."

"This meeting is of the opinion that the slowing down of the work on the Singapore Naval Base is most detrimental to the mobility of our Fleet and the mercantile security of the trade routes and commerce of the Empire."

ISTANBOL

"Though I fly to Istanbul Athens holds my heart and soul."

Constantinople is no more. By the Turkish decree it has gone back to Istanbul—Stambul. Perhaps no great harm is done, for we shall all speak or write of Constantinople, no doubt, except on telegrams. The change is not so disheartening as that which transformed St. Petersburg into Petrograd and then into Leningrad. Even Christians, in slipping back to Osmo, might be thought to have given the Turks an excuse, and they can also plead that, though Christians have spoken of Constantinople for six centuries they themselves have never wavered from Istanbul. Istanbul is how they pronounce it, the pronunciation of the Turks being easier to follow than their reasoning, because the syllables are from Greek words meaning "to this city." Greek the city is and Greek it will remain. It was once Byzantium, and from it spread Greek beauty and a later Greek art than that of Athens—not so beautiful, but still a power in the civilized world. The Byzantine Empire held barbarism at bay; but it could not withstand the growing power of Rome. Constantinople saw it, went to it and absorbed it. With a vision far beyond his time, which was that of the fourth century, he saw that this city, from its geographical position, was the site for an Empire. It is the outpost of the West and the East. It is the gateway between the North and the South. Constantinople made it the capital of the Western Roman Empire, naming it after himself.

That much of history is told in its name, but history has never since then ceased to knock at its gates. Constantinople made it the Rome of the East. He filled it with the treasures of Greece, he imparted to it something of the strength of his own iron mind. When Attila, the Hun, burst like a thunderbolt on the West, Constantinople remained inviolate. The Mongolian tribes of the Bulgars bore down on it, but Constantinople withstood them. It was Belisarius, a soldier of Justinian, ruler of this Eastern Empire of Constantinople, who broke the power of the Persians, wiped out the Vandals from North Africa, and all but plucked Italy from the Goths who had overrun it. For nearly a thousand years Constantinople held the pass, once lost, recovered, and ever defiant. Haroun Al Raschid, though he fought hard and successfully, could not subdue Constantinople. The Crusaders went past it. They were truly part of the effort of the West to maintain it. Not till 1453, when Constantinople was deserted by all Christians, was it captured. The last Constantine, thirty generations removed from the first, was reigning when Mohammed II took it. Constantinople fought to the last. Constantinople and the heroes who fought with him died and fell with it. Such are the ancient memories preserved in the name of Constantinople. The city's name may change on its telegrams, but it will remain in history. The wonder which was Constantinople cannot die. Even Istanbul, the name which does not belong to it, cannot quench the memories of Constantinople.

THE PRESS GALLERY

One of the most piquant contrasts in the history of British political life is in the place given to publicity as between the legislators of today and a century and a half ago. At that time parliamentarians penalized any who dared report the debates in the House. No convenient press gallery was provided them nor comfortable quarters in the legislative precincts. For illicit reporting of debates publishers were summoned to the bar of the House and imprisoned. When The Gentleman's Magazine, which was established in 1731, made the reporting of the debates a prominent feature of its pages, Speaker Arthur Onslow, to whom British parliamentary procedure is specially indebted, called the attention of the House to it. The House resolved that "it was an high indignity and a notorious breach of trust of the privilege of the House for any news-writer to presume to insert any account of the debates," and more to that effect.

For a century following this an unequal struggle between the Press and the Commons proceeded. Prosecutions, usually abortive, of offending newspapers and magazines were instituted but their popularity prevented drastic action. Finally the matter was thrashed out in Parliament which at last acknowledged that constituencies had a right to be informed of the speeches of their representatives. That was in 1771. With the beginning of such journals as The Morning Post and The Times came shorthand reporting which gained its footing in 1783. When, in 1836, the House of Commons began to publish its division lists the battle for publicity was won. In 1852 news-writers were given their own quarters in the new Parliament Buildings.

The ensuing period has witnessed ever increasing facilities for disseminating the doings of the House. A sentence dropped from a member's lips, picked up by a reporter's pencil, may be flashed across the Dominion. One result of such publicity is a greater sensitiveness to public opinion on the part of legislators and should be conducive to a more intelligent democracy. On the other hand, the newspaper comes under a grave responsibility to ensure accurate and honest reporting.

The Dominion was tested in the responsibilities of that blessed word "status" when a missionary and his daughter from this country were murdered in China and his wife and son carried off by bandits. The Canadian Government could do nothing except appeal to Great Britain, which secured the release of the prisoners and the punishment of the delinquents. "Status" implies the power to defend nationals wherever they may be. Under China's new attitude on extrajurisdictionality no doubt many incidents will occur in which the "status" of nations will be tested. That "status" will always be measured by the ability of a country to take steps for the protection of the life and property of its citizens at home and abroad.

FRIENDSHIP

My thoughts of you are full of a strange sweetness. I know not how to name. A mystery of gracious incompleteness—Dear warmth and no dark flame—Grief as the sound of falling showers, As the simple trees, Comforting as dew and grass and flowers, More precious than all these; Stillness full of harmony and healing That brings a hush to tears; Balm unto the troubled waves of feeling, And sleep unto ancient fears; A silken power wherein my spirit finely And softly is enmeshed; An atmosphere pervading me divinely— I breathe and am refreshed. Mysteriously, delicately, surely, You have my free thoughts penitently— Wonderfully, peacefully, securely, In you they rest content.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Another fellow said that hell was here since they cut out whisky, wine and beer.

We are under obligations to an unknown correspondent for the above lines, part of a "pome" dealing with the religious and social conditions in Los Angeles, Cal.; but if the said conditions in the attractive and enterprising city of California are as bad as they are painted in the words of the poet, the views expressed are not given currency in the newspaper dispatches. So we shall adapt the lines to our own purposes and apply them to the conditions in Chicago for everything that gossip has said about Chicago has been amply confirmed in the newspaper dispatches.

There are no gangsters in Los Angeles, so far as we know. There are gangsters in Chicago, as everybody knows. There is no Big Bill Thompson in Los Angeles. There is a Big Bill Thompson in Chicago, as all the world knows. Big Bill is the Mayor of Chicago, and he and the gangsters are "running" Chicago, and between them they have made a pretty mess of the "running." Between them they have reduced Chicago not only to a state of moral bankruptcy, but to a state of political impotency and financial bankruptcy. We suppose that to Big Bill and his gangsters the moral and political state of Chicago is a matter of no particular consequence, but to the employees of Chicago, an army of many thousands, the financial state of the city must be a matter of considerable consequence, for they are "behind in their pay," and are not likely to receive any pay for three or four months.

The gangsters are not in any special danger of being financially embarrassed or of begging their bread as a result of the financial embarrassment of Chicago. If the city cannot impose and collect taxes, the gangsters can and do collect their taxes. The gangs levy tribute upon business and collect their dues at the mouths of automatic pistols and quick-firing machine guns. If the pistols and the machine guns are not effective, the premises of the delinquents are blown up with bombs. If any of the members of the gangs become apostates, they are picked up on the streets by motor cars, "taken for a ride" and never come back, or are brought back dead and dumped upon the streets before the eyes of a helpless or apathetic police force.

The gangs deal drastically and summarily with traitors and informers. What of the police and the courts of justice? Big Bill controls the police, and what can the courts of justice do without the cooperation of the police?

There is a city council in Chicago, of course; but the city council is elected by popular vote, Illinois being a democratic State. Cook County a democratic county and Chicago an extremely democratic city; but when a vote is taken Big Bill and his gangsters take charge of the polling booths and control the elections. The present popularly elected council at the beginning of the year attempted to take measures for the restoration of the good name of Chicago and the restoration of financial stability by curtailing expenditures, but Big Bill promptly vetoed the measures of the council. Money or no money, pay or no pay, the business of a great and growing city like Chicago must be carried on.

Big Bill is trying to borrow money for the purpose of preventing the schools whose teaching of republican principles King George was attempting to corrupt from being closed, but the signature of Chicago's illustrious Mayor is not worth the paper on which it is inscribed. Capital does not regard Chicago's promises to pay as good security. Chicago cannot borrow money, although it is a wealthy city and the second city in population in the wealthiest country in the whole world. The citizens of Chicago, who failed to do their patriotic duty when they had the political opportunity by voting Big Bill and his gang out, are now "faking" about doing their patriotic duty in another way. They have formed a committee. This committee purports to borrow money on its private credit for the purpose of aiding the city over its immediate difficulties.

But it is a worldly-wise committee. It is going to pledge its credit and raise the money conditionally. It is not going to turn the money it raises over to Big Bill Thompson. It is going to insist upon supervision of the expenditure of the money it collects. That is a condition to which, of course, the illustrious Mayor will not agree, for it would mean, practically, his abdication. It might mean an actual scrutiny of the accounts of the city and impeachment, or whatever action it is they take against illustrious municipal officials who reduce their trust to a state of general bankruptcy.

In the meantime published reports of the degeneracy of Chicago are having ill effects in several other big cities in the United States. Gangsters in Detroit, New York and Philadelphia are "working" those cities in precisely the same way as they are operating in Chicago. They are levying tribute upon business, and if an informer "squeals" to the police, he is soon picked up from the streets and taken upon an excursion from which no traitor returns.

FREE EDUCATION

Sir,—Reading in your paper a letter on the education of veterans' children, and signed "A. Marshall," I feel compelled to take up the writer on "as to giving assistance to illegitimate children. It is a crime." It seems to me that free education or assisted education to the children of virtuous parents who bring children into the world without considering whether they can provide for them or not? This is the thing that is at the root of unemployment and want, and that the troubles of the world. I believe I have read somewhere that "There are no illegitimate children; but there are illegitimate parents." Far be it from me to criticize a parent, being one myself. I know the undertaking and its difficulties, but who can advocate this shoving of responsibilities on to the State? If people can buy motor cars and gramophones and fancy clothes, they can quite well pay money out for education and relieve the State (and the taxpayer) of some of its burdens. However, if one child, owing to poverty is entitled to help, any other child in a like situation is just as much entitled to a benefit.

A QUESTION OF LIABILITY

Sir,—Are there any by-laws or enactments in our statute books granting relief or protection in the case of persons falling from banana or orange peels carelessly thrown on pedestrians' thoroughfares or right-of-ways?

My attention has recently been drawn to the two following accidents, and doubtless there are many other similar, if not more serious, happenings.

A passenger in a street car was thrown violently to the floor owing to his foot slipping on an orange peel in the aisle of the street car. He was taken to hospital and is now in a precarious condition.

Is the offending party who dropped the peel responsible for the injury? Or in the case of the incident in the street car, is it the British Columbia Electric Railway Company? Or, in the case of the pavement, is it the Corporation of the City of Victoria?

RIPPLE ROCK

Sir,—It seems a pity that such expressions of disregard for the safety of shipping and possible disaster at Seymour Narrows should appear in the press, and particularly so because of the doubtful contention, or worse assumption, that the removal of the high portion of Ripple Rock, to give twenty-seven or twenty-nine feet of water at low tide, would thereby render this submerged rock unusable as a base for a bridge pier. If Vancouver Island is to be connected to the Mainland at a cost of forty or fifty millions of dollars, the removal of the high portion of a 200-foot tower on Ripple Rock would be a minor item of cost (if not in difficulty) and whether it was removed or not, the bridge would be low water level or nine feet below low water level would surely make very little difference to the bridge engineers.

In the meantime, until the bridge is built, the greater depth of water over the rock would prevent the

This Week's Great Day

BIRTH OF SIR THOMAS MOORE

On February 7, 1779, Sir Thomas Moore, the great English statesman and senator of his day and one of the most universally venerated characters in British history, was born in the city of London, his father being a prominent lawyer. At an early age he became a member of the household of Cardinal Merton, Archbishop of Canterbury, and was educated at the school of the sons of the greatest families in England, for the inmates of the household were provided with a splendid education and an introduction to the life of the world. The boy's precocious ability and sweet temper commended him to the cardinal, whose predictions of a marvellous future for him were destined to be speedily and amply fulfilled.

For a short time More studied at Oxford University, but he left before taking his degree, for his father feared that his son's partiality for the doctrines known as the New Learning would unfit him for the legal career for which he was studying. More was duly called to the bar, and as a lawyer he soon acquired a wide celebrity for his profound legal knowledge, and there were few important cases in which he was not engaged as counsel on one side or the other.

He later became a member of Parliament, and his successful opposition in the House of Commons to a money bill demanded by King Henry VIII incurred for him the monarch's displeasure, with the result that More was forced to abandon his legal practice and retire to private life until the accession of Henry VIII. He first attracted the notice of the new king by winning a case in which he appeared against the Crown, and in the Mail Clerk of your hotel or telephone to Longacre 404.

GIANTS CAUSEWAY is a natural pier or mole of columnar basalt, projecting from the North Coast of Antrim, Ireland, into the North Channel. It is a part of an overlying mass of basalt from 300 to 500 feet in thickness, which covers almost the whole country of Antrim. It derives its name from a legend which tells of a road to be constructed by giants across the channel to the coast of Scotland.

WHEAT RESERVES

Sir,—I have read with interest your editorial, "Wheat Pool Seeking Help," also letters of Mr. W. Hall and Mr. W. J. Whitlock in reply. Each of those correspondents has missed some points, so perhaps you will allow me a woman's brief word, if not the last one.

It should have been pointed out to you that, with the European market glutted, had the pool dumped its wheat on the market, it could only have been absorbed by speculative interests at a low price. These interests have no storage facilities so the wheat would have remained exactly where it is now, subject to usual storage charges and consignment by transportation interests, or labor would not benefit more than they have done. Control would have passed from producers to speculators and likewise any ultimate profit, without advantage to consumers. My economic education has been neglected, but I venture an opinion that if in producers' hands is quite as good for the country as the same amount in the hands of speculators.

Oak Bay United Father and Son Banquet Held

The annual father and son banquet was held on Tuesday, when 110 of the fathers and sons of the Oak Bay United Church.

Rev. Bruce Gray delivered the principal address of the evening on "Canada's Challenge to Her Youth." He thought that the Trail Ranger and Tuxis programme of instruction was just the thing necessary to develop those characteristics required in successful leaders. Mr. Ivan Redmayne was toastmaster, the list consisting of the following items: Toast, "The King"; community singing; leader, Mr. Butell; toast, "Our Speaker"; Ivan Redmayne; toast, "The Church"; Jack Fox; reply, Rev. W. A. Guy; toast, "Our Father"; Willie McPhail; reply, Mr. J. B. Clearhouse; toast, "Our Mother"; reply, Mr. J. B. Clearhouse; toast, "Our Father"; reply, Mr. J. B. Clearhouse; toast, "Our Mother"; reply, Mr. J. B. Clearhouse.

A woman told the London magazine in 1929. More succeeded him as Chancellor, and his appointment met with universal approval. He held the exalted office for three years, when, rather than favor the king's designs to divorce Catherine of Aragon and marry Ann Boleyn, he resigned and retired to his home at Chelsea, where he devoted himself to his family and his studies. During the next two years several unsuccessful attempts were made to prove him guilty of bribery and corruption, but it was not until 1534, when More refused to take the oath required by the Act of Supremacy, which proclaimed the king to be the head of the church, that he was arrested and indicted for high treason.

After spending some months in the Tower of London, he was placed on trial in Westminster Hall, where, by the most flagrant perjury and injustice, he was found guilty and condemned to die. His sentence of death by hanging was changed by the king to beheading, and on July 7, 1535, he met his fate on the Tower Hill scaffold. His headless body was buried in the chapel of the Tower, but his head was placed on the spikes of Old London Bridge, from which it was removed by his daughter, who interred it at St. Dunstan's Church in Canterbury.

More's blameless life, his great scholarship and piety, and his fortitude in misfortune, combine to make him one of the most attractive and respected figures in the history of the Motherland.

EXCESSIVE LICENSING IS DEPRECATED

Opposition Leader Raises
Principle in Connection
With Real Estate
Agents

ADVISORY BOARD TO BE CREATED

An explanation of the bill which will require real estate agents and real estate salesmen to take out licences was given by Hon. R. H. Pooley, Attorney-General, yesterday afternoon.

The Leader of the Opposition took a preliminary objection when the matter was brought forward, against the practice which he said was growing under the present Government for licensing of all kinds of callings.

In moving the second reading of the bill, Hon. R. H. Pooley said that meetings had taken place between real estate dealers in Vancouver and Victoria before the bill was introduced. The meetings were suggestions offered therefrom.

It was provided that an applicant for a licence should wait for thirty days in order to allow investigation by the superintendent of insurance. Mr. Pooley went into the new suggestions. On the formation of a joint stock company a transfer of licence from the original operator could be obtained.

The main section of the bill was with respect to an appeal being allowed. An advisory board was made possible to pass upon the refusal, suspension or revoking of a licence by the superintendent. This investigation would be no star chamber proposition, but would be in operation. The Attorney-General would appoint one of the board, the applicant another and the two would name the third.

The question was asked if lawyers were exempt from the operation. Mr. Pooley said they were, under a certain section, and referred to their having been following their profession long before real estate men.

Mr. Pattullo took issue with this, and Mr. T. Uphill wished to know if Mr. Pooley was not a real estate man. The bill passed its second reading.

VICTORIA BOY FATALLY SHOT

WHILE STANDING UP TO BE PHOTOGRAPHED ROBERT
W. WATSON IS KILLED

Was Pulling His Gun Toward Him
When Hammer Caught—Death
Was Instantaneous

While standing up with his father to be photographed, Robert W. Watson, aged sixteen, was instantly killed when a gun which he was holding went off by accident. The tragic event occurred near Lillooet on Sunday afternoon, according to information received in this city, yesterday.

The father, Mr. G. C. Watson, of 639 Langford Street, is managing the McGillivray Creek placer mines, and his son had been spending the winter with him. Together with others in a party which had been formed to visit the Anderson Lake mines, Mr. Watson and Robert were standing up in front of the tunnel, to be photographed. Robert had with him a shotgun, one barrel of which was loaded with ball cartridge. It was standing in the snow, leaning against an ore car, and to have it in the photograph the boy others in the party had pulled it toward him. Apparently the hammer caught in something hidden by the snow.

A coroner's inquest was held and burial was made in Lillooet, the funeral service being read by Mr. Holmes, lay reader in the Church of England. The pallbearers were: A. D. Dunlop, Harold Ostrander, Harold Phair and Harry Webster, all Lillooet schoolboys.

Robert Watson was born in Victoria, and survived by his father and mother, by a sister aged eighteen, and by a brother, aged thirteen, all of this city. He was an office boy on the staff of The Colonist, and in

N.Y. GARMENT WORKERS BATTLE

Two Sections of Workers in Garment Trade Meet in Streets and Fight Royal Ensur

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Two disturbances in the garment section in connection with the strike of 25,000 members of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, occurred today, when strikers and members of the so-called left wing who are not on strike, met in Thirty-Sixth and Thirty-Eighth Streets. Left wing workers were on their way to shops in Thirty-Eighth Street, when they ran into a parade of strikers. Immediately fists and clubs began flying. Police estimated that 1,000 men and women participated, three arrests were made, one striker and two left wing workers.

About 300 strikers and left wing workers were involved in a second disturbance in Thirty-Sixth Street, near Ninth Avenue. This disturbance was broken up by police without making any arrests.

Teller Asked to Cash One of Cheques Believed Stolen
—Man Detained and
Police Are Called

THIEF IS SOUGHT ON MAINLAND ALSO

Charged with unlawful possession of a cheque for $501, knowing it to be stolen, Robert Wattle, of Vancouver, aged twenty-eight years, appeared in the city police court yesterday before Magistrate George Jay and was remanded until Monday. It is stated that additional charges will be laid against Wattle in connection with the theft of cheques from the mail and the subsequent cashing of these cheques. These operations are alleged to have extended over several months and to involve a total sum of more than $2,000.

A number of cheques recently cashed in Victoria and Vancouver have subsequently been found to have been stolen from the mails. The name of the person to whom they were payable had in some cases been erased and another name written in. The cheques varied in amount from small sums up to several hundred dollars. Many of them were issued by firms of excellent financial standing, and they were readily cashed. The police in Victoria and Vancouver have been carrying on an investigation and endeavoring to lay hands on the guilty person or persons.

Wattle was arrested at the main branch of the Bank of Montreal on Tuesday, where he had presented a cheque to Mr. A. E. Exham, a teller in the bank. An allegedly stolen cheque had previously been cashed, and Mr. Exham was disposed to be wary. Wattle came in about noon and offered the cheque in payment for a bank draft. His face seemed to Mr. Exham to be not altogether unfamiliar and was associated with the cashing of the former cheque. Detaining Wattle, the teller called up the police, and Deputy Chief O'Leary and Detective W. Caldwell appeared and made the arrest.

ELECTIONS OF BISHOPS MAKE CONTROVERSY

Church Assembly Wants Selection of Such Incumbents to Be in Hands of Committee

WILL BE GIVEN TO NEW COMMISSION

By THOMAS T. CHAMPELON
(Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The Church Assembly today adopted the report of the committee appointed seven years ago to investigate the manner of appointing bishops. These officials, of course, are now appointed by His Majesty through the Prime Minister. The dean and chapter of the cathedral concerned go through the formality of electing the cleric selected by the King and the Premier.

The committee, whose report was adopted today, received evidence from the two past Prime Ministers, as well as from a host of other witnesses. Its conclusions will now go forward to be considered by the committee which was resolved upon yesterday for inquiry into relations between the Church and the State.

The Bishop of Manchester, Dr. Guy Warman, moving adoption of the report today, said they were often told that the present system of appointing bishops works well and that quite decent and respectable people were appointed. That depended on the character of the Premier and the amount of influence the Sovereign was able to bring to bear. They were told, on the other hand, that certain people were appointed who, under another system, would never become bishops. The reasons urged for a change were that they ought to be able to take divine guidance in selecting those to be appointed. The committee made three suggestions:

1. The dean and chapter should have the right to refuse to act upon the Sovereign's mandate without incurring any penalty.

2. The archbishop should not be liable for any penalty if he refused to confirm or consecrate a man nominated for the bishopric.

3. The Prime Minister, before appointing the recommendation for appointment to the Sovereign, should consult an advisory committee without in the slightest way derogating his own ultimate responsibility.

POLICE SEEK NOCTURNAL LOITERERS

From the Fernwood district comes a report of a woman being accosted during a purse-snatching episode, and an attempt to molest her.

Accosted on the west side of Douglas Street at the intersection of Broughton Street, shortly before 11 o'clock last night, Mrs. Alfred Warner, seventy, 140 Menzies Street, sustained a bad scalp wound over her right temple and severe shock. The injured man was taken to Dr. W. T. Barrett's office and from there to the St. Joseph's Hospital in the C. & C. ambulance.

Police report of the accident states that Mr. W. O. Mitchell, 4247 Fourteenth Avenue West, Vancouver, was proceeding north on Douglas Street when the mishap occurred.

On Mr. Warner's arrival at the hospital he was taken to the operating room, where the wound was stitched up by Dr. Barrett. Although the patient was conscious at all times, the attending physician stated last night that an X-ray will be taken today to ascertain whether or not there is a fracture of the skull.

Constable Charles Gremer and Driver Percy Atkinson of the city police visited the scene of the accident and took measurements.

Elected Members—Mr. J. W. Montgomery, manager of the B.C. Oil Equipment Company, and Mr. Alfred Brewer, retired, were yesterday elected members of the Victoria Rotary Club at the weekly meeting of that organization. Mr. John Thomas, radio singer of Seattle, rendered three vocal solos, which were well received.

Building Permits—Permits issued Wednesday at the City Hall by Chief Building Inspector James Beal included those for the British Wooding Company for erection of a one-story brick building, to serve as a workshop at 1727 Store Street, at a cost of $4,000, with Mr. David Burrows as contractor.

Wood Preservation—On a tour of inspection of a number of plants in the city, Mr. Richard V. Look is in the city from Montreal. He has just attended a convention at Seattle of wood preserving authorities, and is inspecting his interests represented in British Columbia by the Vancouver Creosoting Company, of North Vancouver, which is supplying the creosote piling for the Empress Hotel power house, now under construction.

To Get Trophy—Major M. Kirkpatrick-Crockett, officer commanding the 55th Heavy Battery, 6th British Columbia Coast Brigade, Canadian Artillery, left Victoria yesterday for Ottawa where he will receive the Governor-General's trophy on behalf of his battery, which was successful in the artillery competition last year.

Back From Tour—Mr. P. E. McCarter, of the McCarter-Shingle Jubilee Singers, arrived here in Victoria yesterday from New York. He stated that a building boom, particularly in the way of small houses, is now being built up, and will be under way by the middle of the year in the Eastern part of the continent. He added that there was developing a state of much easier money for construction, and the effect of this will be felt as the Spring season opens up, with an increase in demand for lumber from Pacific Coast mills.

Radio Action—The Victoria Radio Club has authorized the preparation of a pamphlet to be distributed throughout Canada explaining the reasons why the club advanced the proposals which have been in great part incorporated in the unanimous report presented by Sir John Aird to the Federal Government. The club is taking this action as a counterblast to propaganda against the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Broadcasting recently disseminated by powerful organizations interested in continued operation of broadcasting stations under existing conditions.

Prepare to Visit Vancouver—At the meeting of the Victoria and District Local Council, Anglican Young People's Association, last evening, definite arrangements were made for the visit of the members of this organization to visit the Vancouver A.Y.P.A. on February 22 and 23. The delegation from this city will consist of some fifty to sixty members of the six local branches. Mr. Jack Aylwin is looking after transportation, and Mr. Brian Green is having suitable lodges made for the occasion, while Mr. B. O. Hawkins will have charge of general arrangements and accommodation. Mrs. S. C. Hawkins has consented to act as chaperone.

FAN IS NEEDED

Foul Air of Legislative Chamber Is Subject of Complaint by Members

A vile miasma pervades the Legislative Chamber—not of a political character. Orders have gone forth that if the lives of the members of the House are to be prolonged there must be more fresh air pumped into the place.

The subject is not a new one, but comes up about every session at some stage of the proceedings, when the members rebel against the condition of the air of the room.

It fell to the lot this session of Mr. A. M. Manson to raise the point, which he did, just before adjournment last evening. He said the air was "positively putrid."

Hon. R. H. Pooley agreed with the condemnation offered with regard to the air. He said he could not understand why it should be so, and he proceeded to show where, in the room, the air was stale. It had been adopted provision made for the renewing of the supply. In the old days there used to be a fan operated in one of the openings in the roof. This was in the days of the old Conservative Government. Why it was removed he did not know.

Premier Tolmie said that never before in his life had he experienced such bad air as was to be found there.

He said that something must be done at once to prolong the lives of the legislators, and the House then adjourned.

COUNCIL BUSY AT ROYAL OAK

SAANICH BOARD RECEIVES MANY REQUESTS FOR ENDORSEMENT

Oak Bay Will Apply to Legislature for Aid Limiting Speed of "Drive Yourself" Cars

Meeting at Royal Oak last evening, with Reeve Crouch in the chair, the Saanich Council, after listening to the statement of hospital costs by Messrs. McGregor and Muir, transacted considerable routine business.

Estimates for the year as presented by the Police Commission for a total of $13,500 were approved. Mr. R. P. Blandy, clerk of the Oak Bay Board, asked the endorsement of the council in its request to the Provincial Government that legislation be passed compelling equipment of all "Drive Yourself" cars with automatic speed controls or governors, so as to prevent a high speed race.

The Victoria Public Library Board suggested that the library agreement entered into between Mayor Anson and Reeve Crouch should have the approval of the newly elected council.

Councillors Borden, Oldfield, and Woods, with the Reeve, will constitute a committee to investigate the merits of five applications from municipal employees for increase in salary.

The City of North Vancouver asked the support of the council to a request to the Government for a provincial town planning commission, so that the smaller cities of the province could have the benefit of expert advice in connection with their problems.

The Vancouver Island Coach Lines wrote reporting a number of roads in the district out of order.

The application of Mr. E. J. McLachlan for permission to establish a fox farm on Blenkinsop Road, and as he had secured the consent of neighbors, was favorably considered. As superintendent of Works Allan Trevel, a fully qualified engineer, his future designation will be that of municipal engineer.

Councillor Crowhurst was anxious that something should be done about the matter of a garbage collection in Ward Two. He was asked to find out what the cost would be on the defensive, as many almost unanswerable points would be brought up, such as: "You have let the Chinese naturalize, yet you discriminate against them."

"This may be a purely domestic issue, but the attitude we adopt in a domestic issue may give rise to international feeling," the speaker warned.

TESTS VALUE OF GATHERING

PROF. H. F. ANGUS, DELEGATE TO KYOTO GATHERING SPEAKS HERE

Problems of Sino-Japanese Relations Dominated Recent Parley

The Pacific Relations Conference has at least the one indisputable merit of putting to the test the sincerity of the countries which participate, according to Professor H. F. Angus, of the University of British Columbia. Speaking before the University Extension Association last evening at Victoria College, Professor Angus, who was with the Canadian delegation at Kyoto last November, discussed some of the contentious questions which were debated at that time, and his summary of the attitude taken adopted by China and Japan, particularly in connection with the matter of foreign relations indicating that there was genuine need for a better mutual understanding.

SINO-JAPANESE RELATIONS
The conference of 1927 had, even if by a fluke, done a great deal of good in improving relations and relieving a serious state of friction between Great Britain and China, the Chinese policy, as revealed in the King's speech subsequently, having been accepted with approval of both parties. A conference could, therefore, remove a source of friction of that character. But the differences arising were not always of the same nature. In the dispute which had arisen between the Chinese and Japanese last November, the Chinese, it appeared, had nothing to offer. And any permanent compromise was impossible if one side claimed everything and offered nothing.

Some critics asked what use were such conferences if they did not settle anything, did not pass any resolutions, and by common consent expected to disagree when they left just as when they came together. Professor Angus, in reply to this, stated that the statement of the dispute which had arisen over questions almost wholly concerning Japanese and Chinese interests, expressed the opinion that the real purpose of the Pacific Relations Conference was jeopardized if it settled down to devoting its whole time to the consideration of affairs in the Far East. The United States, England, Canada and other countries represented at these conferences would not consider sitting at such gatherings merely as neutral arbiters in disputes between China and Japan. Unless it worked both ways the conference would become one-sided.

REVIEWS CONFERENCE
Prof. Angus described the conference, the method of representation, the personnel, the organization and conduct of the meetings (which took the form of several round-table conferences convening simultaneously and discussing the same problems).

The conference had concerned itself, largely as the result of canvassing, with the question of Japan's problem of food and population. Statistics certainly showed this to be a very real problem in the face of an 80,000,000 annual increase in population in a country whose arable lands were practically all under cultivation, and whose chief export, cotton, was vulnerable in its chief markets through protective tariffs.

DISCRIMINATION
The question of discriminatory treatment of resident aliens in different countries represented at the conference was another of the big issues to be discussed at the conference of 1931. Prof. Angus indicated some of the sensitive points in this question. In some cases the discrimination was not obvious, seemingly depending on the discretion of the country. Canada and the United States in that discussion would be on the defensive, as many almost unanswerable points would be brought up, such as: "You have let the Chinese naturalize, yet you discriminate against them."

"This may be a purely domestic issue, but the attitude we adopt in a domestic issue may give rise to international feeling," the speaker warned.

Had to Promise Bandits Ransom Before Release
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 6.—Released on a promise to pay $25,000 ransom to kidnappers, Mr. Max Price, sixty-six, wealthy real estate dealer, returned to his home early today after eight days of enforced bondage.

Trembling, stubble-bearded, wearied by five miles of walking from the countryside where he had been thrown out of an auto by his captors, he told of having laid tied to a bed for eight days, blindfolded even while being fed, with his captors continually demanding ransom.

Women's Institutes of Vancouver Island

METCHOSIN
The February meeting of the Metchosin Women's Institute was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. R. Johnson, with the president, Mrs. M. E. McVicker in the chair and sixteen members present. The correspondence included a letter from Dr. Young, upon consideration of which it was decided to have a health exhibit at the annual bulb show. In connection with this display a prize will be offered for the most attractive and well-balanced school lunch, the competition being open to all residents. There was also a letter from the Institute Auxiliary, asking if the institute would assist with sewing. A hearty response being made to this appeal, the secretary was instructed to ask for the garments to be sent out at once. Mrs. Peden, secretary of the South Vancouver Island District Board, who spoke briefly at the last meeting, has kindly presented the institute with a book, "The Viking Heart." A letter was received from her expressing her appreciation of the institute's hospitality, saying how much she had enjoyed being present, and wishing the members every success in their ventures. Arrangements were completed for the Valentine card party, to be held at the Metchosin Hall, February 15, to which all residents of the district are invited. An invitation has also been given to the members of the Langford, Colwood and Luxton Institutes, and their friends. The meeting was advised that no action had been taken by the B.C. Electric Company in regard to bringing electric power to the Metchosin district, the residents being unable to meet the requirements of that company. It is understood, however, that the possibility of organizing a company to utilize local power is under consideration. The March meeting will be held at the residence of Mrs. H. C. Helgesen, when plans for the Spring bulb show will be discussed and a revision of entries considered. At the close of the meeting the Misses Barbara Johnson, Gwen Meredith-Jones and Cora Kevelly assisted the hostess in serving tea.

ROYAL OAK
A dance will be held at the Royal Oak Community Hall on Friday by the Royal Oak Women's Institute, and a large number of guests is expected. Dancing will continue from 9 till 1 o'clock.

A Well Baby Clinic was held at the Health Centre January 15. Dr. Garnet in charge; nine babies were examined.

SIMPLICITY is stressed in this youthful ensemble tailored in a smartly printed fabric. 1. A series of pleats gives fullness to the skirt, and a novel tab smartly draped adds interest to the neutral-toned blouse. 2. A new printed crepe suit, the long waist has a fitted girle which is quite new. 3. A charming frock of flat crepe from Frances Clyde, smartly tailored, yet having a touch of femininity with its circular skirt and high waistline.

Continues Inquiry Into Condition of Sailors' Homes Throughout Canada

Mr. J. Ritchie Bell, superintendent of the Sailors' Institute at Montreal, who is conducting an investigation into sailors' homes throughout the ports of Canada, has reached Vancouver.

He is expected to arrive here on Tuesday and on Wednesday will hold a private conference with officials of the Connaught Seamen's Institute.

His objective is to make a report to the British and Foreign Sailors' Society, and the report is a sequel to the inquiry conducted in 1928 by Admiral E. F. Bruen.

It is expected that the work in Canada will be consolidated, with a central office for administrative work, probably at Montreal, as a result of the inquiry.

SOLARIUM SHOWER OPENED YESTERDAY

The three-day linen, shower on behalf of the Queen Alexandra Solarium, which is being held under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of the Solarium, opened yesterday morning, when baskets for the reception of sheets, pillow cases, bath towels, table napkins and tray cloths were placed in convenient places at Messrs. David Spencer's, the Hudson's Bay Company's store, Messrs. Weller's, the Oak Bay Grocery and the Solarium office. Friends may leave their donations at any of these places any time before 6 o'clock tomorrow evening.

It is felt by the committee in charge of the shower, of which Mrs. William Fries is convener, that many donors may find a gift of pair of sheets rather beyond their purses, in which case it is suggested that two ladies might co-operate and share the expense. The following dimensions would be preferred in any supplies given, if donors can arrange to make their purchases accordingly: Sheets, fifty-six by eighty-four inches when finished; cot sheets, fifty-five by seventy-seven inches when finished; draw sheets, forty by fifty-two inches when finished; pillow cases, thirty-three by twenty-two inches when finished; bath towels, twenty-four by forty-two inches. All sheeting supplies should be of heavy twilled unbleached calico.

"But couldn't you learn to love me, Diana?" pleaded the rejected suitor.
"Love you?" said the haughty damsel. "Really I couldn't."
He stood erect, a steely gleam in his eye.
"It is as I feared," he told her.
Mr. Justice Eve—"It is always better to be too old to learn."

Caucus Declines To Intervene in MacGill Case

THE delegation of women interested in the restoration of Mrs. Helen MacGill to the position of Judge of the Juvenile Court in Vancouver met the Conservative caucus, and declined to have the subject reviewed.

The caucus informed the delegation that the matter had been dealt with by the Government, and that no good purpose seemed likely to be filled by reopening it.

BIRDS DESCRIBED TO ALPINE CLUB

A fascinating address on birds was given by Mr. L. E. Taylor, of Saanichton, at a well-attended meeting of the Vancouver section of the Alpine Club of Canada at the Y.W.C.A. Wednesday evening. Mr. W. H. Dougan was in the chair, and Mr. C. L. Harrison, convener of the outings committee, moved the very hearty vote of thanks to the speaker at the close of his talk, which was a very illuminating survey of the habits and essential importance of birds as destroyers of insects. Without birds the world would long ago have become barren of vegetation through depredations of potato bugs, the silk worm, the locust, the elm bug and similar pests.

Correspondence read included a letter from Mr. James White, of Sidney, extending the customary invitation to Lake Killarney, on May 17, which was received with grateful appreciation, and from the Victoria Real Estate Board, asking for the club's co-operation in the preservation of wild flowers.

Two Agricultural Measures Advanced

Two bills standing in the name of the Minister of Agriculture, Hon. W. Atkinson, were disposed of with little controversy in the Legislature yesterday. When the bill to amend the Eggs Market Act came up on adjourned debate on the second reading.

Dr. Wrinch did not wish to debate the matter as it was coming before the agricultural committee. The bill passed its second reading. On the Creameries and Dairies Regulation Bill, Dr. Wrinch hoped in committee that the arbitrary power the minister was assigned under the bill might be modified. The members for Skeena expressed a wish that there should be a referendum for those who produced cream, and were obliged to get less because of the down grading of the cream, rather than the higher grading of it. The bill passed its second reading.

Service Club Ball Planned for February 28

The first annual ball of the United Service Institution of Vancouver Island will be held at the Empress Hotel on Friday, February 28. Tickets will be limited in number and may be obtained from Major P. T. Stern, the honorary secretary. In arranging the ball, the executive committee, including president, Col. A. W. R. Wilby; vice-presidents, Commander A. D. M. Curry, R.C.N., J. N. Anderson, Lieut.-Col. C. E. Ball, Major C. S. Craig, R.C.A., Capt. L. de S. Duke and Major R. H. B. Ker; secretary Major P. T. Stern, will have the assistance of the following: Lieut.-Commander G. M. Hibbard, R.C.N.; Lieut. E. B. Woods, Fifth Coast Brigade, C.A.; Lieut. A. P. Green, Eleventh Signal Company; Capt. W. G. Colquhoun, P.P.C.L.I.; Major F. B. J. Stephenson, Sixteenth Scottish Regiment; Major W. A. R. Hadley, Eleventh Divisional Train; Lieut. W. E. M. Mitchell, Thirtieth Field Ambulance.

MARRIAGE BILL MAKES PROGRESS
Power of Appeal for Aggrieved Clergy Under Consideration

Mr. Ian Mackenzie, in resuming the debate in the House yesterday on the bill respecting the solemnization of marriage, which is in charge of Hon. R. L. Maitland, contended that the bill differed little from legislation drafted by Mrs. Helen MacGill, who he said was unjustly dismissed from office by this Government.

Mr. Mackenzie instanced a case like that of Dr. Clem Davies in Victoria and Rev. J. O. Robertson in Vancouver, who had differed from their former parent bodies and were therefore not able to appeal to these bodies for recognition, an injustice might thus be done.

Hon. R. L. Maitland pointed out that such persons could appeal to a judge.

Mr. Mackenzie admitted this was the only safeguard.

He also criticized the proposal that eight days had to elapse from the application for a licence before marriage.

Mr. T. Uphill suggested that a man on reaching the age of twenty-five years should be taxed $100 if he were not married, and that an increase take place on the tax for each year for which he remained unmarried following this date.

On the adjourned debate on the bill to amend the Distress Act, which is also sponsored by Mr. Maitland, Mr. L. A. Hanna suggested exemption of $500 or $700 rather than the enumeration of the articles.

He also objected to the allowing of a seizure for more than sufficient to cover the demand without damage, provided a return were made within three days.

Mr. Maitland said he was agreeable in committee to have these suggestions considered.

The bill passed its second reading.

SHERIFFS' MEASURE PASSES COMMITTEE
The bill to amend the Sheriff's Act, the first introduced in the session, got through committee of the House yesterday. The bill proposes to allow sheriffs to appoint more than one deputy sheriff where necessary.

In adjourned committee on the Sheriff's Bill, Mr. A. Manson, asked as to the pay of deputy sheriffs. Were they to be paid by fees or by salary?

Mr. Pooley said the practice would be just as at present where one deputy was allowed.

Mr. L. A. Hanna asked if the sheriff would be responsible for the acts of the deputies.

Mr. Pooley said he would. At present where one deputy was allowed he was responsible, and there would be no change.

The bill was reported complete.

Fashion Fancies
By Marie Belmont

The stage is set for the coming of our old friends staging a comeback. Probably the most prominent in the cast is our old friend the cape, and it is certainly proving that age has not dimmed its popularity.

A charming ensemble designed for southern wear effectively combined beige and green Canton crepe. The tuck-in blouse of beige crepe is a fitting background for the deep V of green, the point of which buttons on the skirt in front and back. The cape with slashes at the front for the arms, is of green Canton, lined with beige. The deep v of the skirt follows the inspiration of the V band and inverted pleats descend from the points. A green felt hat and green suede shoes complete the costume.

Skiing Costumes De Luxe

ORIGINALITY of design and sharp contrast in color mark the skiing costumes of the winter. Many of these are of waterproof gabardine and in almost every case there are clever zipper fastenings to keep out the cold.

The skiing suit pictured is in evergreen wool of a very soft texture, with the jumper horizontally striped in tan and two shades of red, wine and rose, with a scarf to match. This has a talon slide fastener, while the jacket is closed with leather-covered buttons.

A costume from Schiaparelli consists of trousers of the Norwegian type (as in the sketch), a short jacket with zipper closing down the front and down the outside of the sleeves, the latter for the purpose of opening the sleeves when the sport becomes vigorous. These can be caught under the belt, revealing the sweater sleeves.

With this particularly colorful costume four sweaters are worn. The first, donned next to the skin, is violet, quite high in the neck at front, with a long caupon cap attached at the back, and with sleeves extending to the wrists. Over this is worn a yellow sweater, lower in front and half an inch shorter in the sleeves. The wearer tops this with a blue sweater, still lower in front and again half an inch shorter than the previously donned garment. The effect is that of the rainbow with the four sweaters supplying varying degrees of warmth.

Wedding of Japanese Couple Is Celebrated

A wedding of unusual interest took place last evening in the Metropolitan United Church in the presence of a large number of Oriental as well as Occidental people, the Japanese colony being widely represented when Rev. W. J. Sippell, assisted by Rev. T. Ogura united in marriage, Miss Miyu Ishida, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Ishida, Chatham Street, to Mr. Takeo Uyeda, of Victoria, formerly of Kumamoto, Japan. The bride was born in Victoria and educated here. The church was decorated with evergreens, daffodils and tulips, and made a pretty setting for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride made a charming picture in her dainty bridal gown of white satin, with which she wore the traditional net wedding veil held with a coronet of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of roses and fern. Her attendants were Mrs. Toshika Yoneda and Mrs. Sumiko Takahashi, both wearing cream frocks and hats to match and carrying lovely bouquets. The groom was supported by Mr. Yoneda and Mr. Takahashi.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. Harry Johns sang, "O Promise Me."

A reception for Japanese friends will be held at the Pekin restaurant on Sunday evening, and a general reception is to be held at the same place on Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock. A Japanese ceremony, attended only by relatives of the bride and groom took place at the home of the bride's parents following last evening's service at the church.

DAILY ROUGHAGE IS AN ESSENTIAL IN ANY DIET

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Is Effective Relief for Constipation. Also Adds Iron to the Blood

Do you suffer from constipation? Are you one of those who have tried one "fast food" after another and still have no sense of permanent relief? If so, this is big news to you! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is natural, effective relief for both temporary and recurring constipation. It is the original—and today is included in the diets of millions of people who formerly suffered from constipation.

When roughage is missing from food, constipation is the consequence. The soft foods we eat today seldom include enough roughage. The simple necessity, then, is to see to it that sufficient roughage is included in our food.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the bulk that your system requires. In addition, it is rich in iron. Scientific research proves that nearly all this iron is absorbed by the system, building red blood and bringing the glorious color of health to the complexion.

There are so many ways you can eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN and enjoy it. In any form, it is appetizing. It is delicious with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over cereals and soups and notice the added flavor. Many people soak it in fruit juices. Excellent in cooked foods. Your grocer has Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. It is served in hotels, restaurants and dining-cars. Ask for it! Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

At The Playhouses

VARIETY Raymond Toby Leitch THEATRE is seen in one of his finest, most reliably funny roles at the Variety Theatre this week, where the popular Toby Leitch Players are presenting that brilliant three-act comedy-drama success, "The Man From South Dakota." From the situation presented grows one of the most thrilling plots ever brought to the Victoria stage. Every act is replete with human interest and gripping drama, and every act is brilliant with the sparkling, hilarious comedy of Toby Leitch. See this splendid play if you would enjoy an exceptionally fine evening's entertainment.

COLISEUM Red Howland and his THEATRE "The California Mail" starring Ken Maynard. "Kissed Beauties" are pleasing large audiences at the Coliseum Theatre this week, where they are appearing in vaudeville acts, assisted by a company that is presenting a clever little play entitled "Baby Mine." In addition to this exceptional stage attraction the management is presenting the screen version of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's immortal poem, "Evangeline," starring lovely Dolores Del Rio. The stage production is particularly clever, and has been enthusiastically received since the formal opening on Monday night.

CAPITOL Riding the roller coaster THEATRE at the beach was Irene Bordon's method of relaxing and exercising while she was working in "Paris," the first National picture showing at the Capitol Theatre. Miss Bordon, brilliant Broadway star, who is now winning fresh laurels on the screen, named the short-theatres as her favorite sport.

ROYAL Only three more performances in which to see "The Ghost Train," the most exciting play which the Gordon McLeod Players have presented at the Royal Theatre. One of the funniest as well as having the most unusual thrills, the audience rock with laughter one moment and sit with bated breath the next. Next week a comedy by Noel Coward, a noted author, will be presented. Miss Marie Tempest, one of England's greatest actresses made one of her great successes in this delightful play called "The Ghost Train." It is one of those sparkling comedies which run along to a ripple of laughter, and leave one smiling long after leaving the theatre.

COLUMBIA The many stories and jokes of small towns that turn out to be the evening train stop at their station probably had their inception when an entire township cheered the incoming stage coaches.

They provided six of the best numbers they ever have written for this entertaining production which serves to introduce Janet Gaynor and Charles as musical comedy stars.

SALMON FISHERS MAKING PROTEST

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Feb. 5.—A mass meeting of the British Columbia Salmon Fishermen's Association strongly protested against the new British Columbia regulations. A resolution also asked that new regulations be distributed in length from 200 to 35 fathoms, that eggs from Skeena hatcheries be distributed in Central British Columbia and Queen Charlotte streams, that flagrant law violations mean confiscation of boat and gear, and that hair seal and sea lions be exterminated.

Burton—Do you play cards for money?

Briggs—No, but I play against fellows who do.

MARKET FOR PACIFIC FISH IN BRITAIN

Shipment of Brine-Frozen Salmon From Local Plant Expected to Bring Further Business

The shipment of over 60,000 pounds of brine frozen fish from Victoria to England yesterday by the Holland-America Ms. Dinteldyk, is to be the forerunner of many more shipments of a like character, according to Mr. H. G. Brown, manager of the B.C. Cold Storage plant at Ogden Point.

VICTORIA TO BE FISHING CENTRE

The first establishment of its kind in Canada, and with the largest brine freezing compartment in the world, the local plant has been the subject of numerous laudatory references in journals devoted to cold storage and commercial interests, both in Great Britain and the United States. In the December issue of The Overseas Review, published in England, there is a lengthy article on the brine freezing method of caring for fish, in which Canadian industry is complimented because of the modern establishment in operation at Victoria.

JUDGMENT GIVEN FOR DR. MAXWELL

Award for Damages Made in County Court Suit—Car Injured When Water Froze

Judgment in the suit of Jameson Motors Ltd. against Doctor Maxwell, of Ladysmith, was handed down yesterday by the County Court Judge Lammiman. Plaintiff had claimed $153 as due for services rendered, and defendant had counterclaimed for cost of repairs to a motor car said to have been damaged by the failure of plaintiff to execute an order for anti-freeze, and also for depreciation in value of the car. The account for services rendered was not contested. The judgment awarded to the defendant was $154 for cost of repairs and $25 for depreciation in value.

CRAFT OUT-OF-DATE

While the article referred to stressed the value of a plant of this character, it called attention to the antiquated and out-of-date fishing craft employed in the Canadian fishing industry being away below the standard of fishing vessels and equipment in use in British waters.

Until better facilities are provided for the handling of fish the time they are taken from the water and unloaded at the cold storage dock, Canadian fishermen will not get the best results, nor will the cold storage plant be able to handle sufficient quantities to make the investment pre-eminently successful.

There is no market today in Great Britain for air-frozen fish, Mr. Brown stated, exhibiting a letter lately received from George Taber, Ltd., largest dealers in, and distributors of, cold storage products in the British Isles. This letter congratulated the local company on its brine freezing feature, and referred to the only other one operating in British North America, a plant operated in Newfoundland by the Hudson's Bay Company, the output from which was entirely handled by the firm of George Taber, Ltd.

Mr. Brown further stated that there were a number of inquiries at present from important interests with a view to business connections. He pointed to the circumstance of the Standard Oil Company and other great organizations now going into the cold storage business. The Standard Oil Company had, during December last, bought three great plants in California. Mr. Brown believed that the past and present methods of canning would soon pass.

NO DETERIORATION

Modern cold storage facilities were now capable of placing processed fish, with vegetables and fruit, without the slightest deterioration, on the market as required. He instanced corn, on the cob which the local plant had stored last September, being as fresh today as it was when first received.

Mr. Brown was more than pleased, he said, with the business done by the plant during December and January. The staff was kept busy all the time, and there had been no curtailment in the number of employees. Fish were being received regularly, a boatload of black cod reaching the plant from Queen Charlotte Sound on Friday last.

Concluding, Mr. Brown predicted that Victoria would become one of the greatest fish centres on the continent. The city was ideally situated on the crossroads of sea commerce, and adjacent to waters having illimitable fishing possibilities.

Canadiens Creep Up in National Hockey League as Maroons Lose

Frenchmen Gain Tie With Maple Leafs as Hawks Stop Montreal

Last Minute Goal Saves Canadiens—Great Maroon Rally Falls Short as Chicago Wins 3-2—Rangers and Cougars Draw

(Canadian Press) TORONTO, Feb. 6.—In one of the most thrilling struggles seen in these parts in some time, Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs emerged as tie steps after seventy minutes of hectic hockey tonight. The final score was 2-2. The Canadiens get the bulk of the credit for in a terrific offense they brought out their dazzling speed and tied the score with less than a minute to go in the third period. Neither scored in the overtime period.

MAROONS FALL SHORT
CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—A desperate Montreal Maroon rally in the final period tonight was just shy, and the Canadian group leaders in the National Hockey League bowed to the Chicago Black Hawks, 3-2. It was the third straight beating administered by the Hawks, all of them by one goal.

For two periods Chicago skated the heavier Maroons off their feet and had a 2-0 lead in the third period. The Maroons opened up at that point, and the Hawks had all they could do to save themselves from a beating.

The Line-Ups
Montreal: Goal—Gardner; Defence—Slegert, Boucher, Stewart, Smith; Wing—Dutton, Duffin, Ward, Trotter, Robinson, Wilcox, W. J. Phillips, Northcott, C. Benedict, W. N. Phillips.

The Eyes Have It on a Ball Player

NOW IN A BATTING SLUMP FOR A MONTH!

CHUCK MLEN, THE PHILLY SLAGGER, RELIEVES A BROWNHAY IN THE BEGINNING OF A LONG SIEGE OF HARD LUCK.

LEWY O'DONAL TAKES THE CUBS OFF A MISSED STRIKE BY TWEEDING HIS BAT SINCE MAJOR'S BATTING.

By AL DEMAREE (Former Pitcher New York Giants)

Ball players' superstitions are almost as numerous as the players themselves. Some of them are general but most of them are individual.

One outstanding dread of all ball players is to meet a cross-eyed girl. Wreaking a mirror can bring no worse misfortune. But there is one way to dispel the curse of the young lady whose eyes "dice" and "hook."

The remedy is simple but effective. The athlete removes his hat and calmly exorcises therein.

Many players believe that the cunning of certain jinx players is stored up in their neckties and if he buys a tie from the butler he will no longer exert the "baleful" over-pinch at the plate.

If Leaky O'Donal takes a cut at a pitcher and misses he always twists his bat. He firmly believes this is a necessary procedure if a strikeout is to be avoided.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
The Remarkable Case of Phineas P. Gage—This strange case won first prize at the Boston "Believe It or Not" contest. It is a noted case in the annals of medical science. While Young Gage was working as a completely through his head, entering under one cheek and coming out almost squarely at the top of his skull. He did not lose consciousness, and was not knocked down, but walked three miles to a farmhouse and up several flights of stairs without aid. He recovered quickly and died a natural death thirteen years later. The skull and crowbar, together with full information about the incident, are on exhibition at the Harvard Medical Museum, Cambridge.

President of Phillies Thinks Team Will Be Well Up Next Season

Baker Believes He Has First Division Club—Thinks Alexander Will Add Strength—Work of Manager Is Lauded

By WALTER TRUMBULL (Copyright, 1935, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

O said William F. Baker, owner of the Phillies, "I don't claim that we will win the National League pennant this season. Experience counts for a lot and my club is young. Leave out Williams, and I doubt whether the players are average twenty-five. But I do believe that, just as we stand, we have a first division team."

"I hope that we will get off to a more fortunate start than last season. You may remember how we suffered from illness and injuries. We could not get going for some time. This year we should do better."

"Bert Shotton is a thoroughly satisfactory manager. He has the ability to recognize talent and the patience to develop it. I never have known a better handler of young players. Basking out a man doesn't really improve him. Shotton doesn't employ that method. He takes the time to talk quietly to a player and explain his mistakes. Shotton is a fine leader."

"Of course, I don't know just how well some of our men who were good last year will be this year. Sometimes a youngster has one good season and then never has another. Success has spoiled a number of men. They get to thinking that they are so good that they start in to live on brief reputations. And there are plenty of persons ready to tell them what stars they are, until they get to depending upon their ears instead of their brains."

"Mr. Baker is right about this. Players who really are good in any game don't depend upon the opinion of others regarding their ability. You will find that most of the real stars are busy trying to make themselves even better. They are not satisfied just to have one good day, month, or year. Filled with fiery ambition, they work harder at their jobs than the average man, and every one of this sort finds the hardest person to satisfy is himself."

"When other players were on their way to the park, Ty Cobb used to be out on the diamond practicing something."

Strong Squads Will Make Mainland Trip To Clash With U.B.C.

Intermediate Rugby, Grass Hockey, Football, Basketball and Golf Events on Sports Programme—Ice Hockey Fixture Abolished

When the Vancouver boat pulled out of the Inner Harbor this afternoon, included on her passenger list will be 125 Victoria College students, teachers and chaperones en route to the Mainland port where they will commence their annual invasion against University of British Columbia athletes.

A week ago, athletes of all branches of sports gathered at the college, and after a lengthy conference, Rugby, football, grass hockey, basketball and golf teams were chosen to compete against the Point Grey institution's best. Although the weather halted outdoor practices, the collegians have been going through their paces regularly in the gymnasium under the careful eyes of the various coaches.

It was the intention of officials of both colleges to stage a two-day programme, but this idea has been abandoned and all sports will be carried out tomorrow at the University. Ice hockey, which was to be included on the list, has been abolished owing to the fact that the local boys have had no chance to practice.

Tonight, at the University, an informal dance will be held; and in the forenoon tomorrow sporting activities will begin with two games slated, football and women's grass hockey. The big attraction as far as the local students are concerned, will be the intermediate Rugby fixture at Brockton Point, a little sideshow for the Rugby enthusiasts of Vancouver, previous to the McKechnie Cup game between Vancouver and Victoria's rep fifteen.

Varsity's intermediate squad managed to hold the fast travelling collegians to a scoreless draw, in a game that was played in a terrific downpour and on a field covered with mud from posts to posts. Last year the local fifteen captured both games, and then went on to win the provincial championship.

FAST RUGBY TEAM
The College squad is one of the best that has been developed in British Columbia's intermediate circles for many years, and with Phil Williams, secretary of the local Rugby Union and manager of the local rep team, at their helm, they expect to take the Mainlanders into camp and then juggernaut down the lane to another provincial title.

Williams has developed the College into a fast, smooth and aggressive outfit. So far this season they have never been scored against in league fixtures, a record that any team would be proud of. They were defeated but once, and that in an exhibition game with the J.B.A.A. seniors. When they take the Brockton Point field they will trot out the following players: Kennedy, C. Copeland, W. Boorman, D. Patterson, C. Hayward, E. Young, Dave Ellis, E. Robinson, L. Walton, P. Sprinkling, F. Walter, R. Knight, R. Grant, J. Rutan and E. Senker.

The College football team which gained a draw, they say, the U.B.C. team will line up as follows: C. Chapman, C. Bassell, L. Kennedy, Fraser, G. Gordon, W. Piller, McInnes, Patterson, Humphries and Warder. With Gordie "Coke" Shields and Cy Manning playing fullbacks, Varsity has a strong defence and will make the locals step to the limit to win.

Led by Pat Copeland, the College grass hockey squad will be out to repeat their performance of championship at Mount Toimie, and the Scottish trying conclusions with Oak Bay Wanderers at Oak Bay Park. Kick-offs are set for 3 o'clock.

INTERMEDIATES TO PLAY TWO RUGBY GAMES TOMORROW
Two Intermediate Rugby League matches comprise the oval ball programme for local fans tomorrow, the seniors being idle on account of the Victoria "regs" going to Vancouver to play in a McKechnie Cup fixture. The local matches will see University School opposing the J.B.A.A. at Mount Toimie, and the Scottish trying conclusions with Oak Bay Wanderers at Oak Bay Park. Kick-offs are set for 3 o'clock.

WANTS PLENTY
For example, I know of one pitcher whose first year in the big leagues was brilliant. I don't know what he was paid, but I imagine around $4,000. His club thought it was properly recognizing his work when it offered him $7,000 for this season. They tell me he is demanding $20,000. If he had two or three years of achievement behind him, it might be different; but there is no assurance that he will do anywhere near as well this year. That is still to be demonstrated. He will not get what he asks, but probably will figure that he has been badly treated."

"I believe that he will be of real assistance to us," he replied. "Alex and I have always maintained the most friendly relations and I have received some enthusiastic letters from him. We are not trying to reform Alexander. All we ask from him is a real interest in our success and I think we'll get it. We have long needed a pitcher of Alexander's experience and ability to use in tight spots."

"All the players work for Shotton. He has the ability to make them anxious to win and they gave him their best. I think that Alexander will do his share."

"The Cubs, Cardinals and Pirates all expect to win the flag. They have assured me that they will. But each of them has been kind enough to assign a place close back of them. That, at least, is what I hear."

Busting Into Baseball
"How I Broke Into the Major Leagues"

By FRED "CY" WILLIAMS As Told to John P. McCann

Most major league ball players, I presume, could lay their entry into the big leagues to any of a score of individuals who in some manner influenced their careers. In my own particular case I know that's true, but my association with professional baseball and a career in the majors I owe in a big way to Charles Webb Murphy, owner of the Chicago Cubs during the premier days of Frank Chance.

It was in the Spring of 1911 that the University of Notre Dame scheduled a practice game with the Cubs at the old West Side Park in Chicago. It was my second collegiate year in the outfield for Notre Dame. The game with the Cubs was played on a cold day and only a handful of people were present. As was my custom, Mr. Murphy was a keen observer and interested spectator, but this was particularly true that day, since the Cubs had just returned from the Spring training ship and he was banking heavily on them for the pennant chase.

With Notre Dame I had been a pretty heavy hitter, but against the Cubs I did nothing outstanding. For some reason, however, Mr. Murphy took a liking to me and a little later sent George Huff to see me at Notre Dame. We played a college team the day Huff came and after the game he offered me a contract.

"The Cubs would like to sign you," he said, but in the conversation that followed I compelled him to admit I wasn't ready for the majors. I told him I couldn't sign the contract, but I promised him when I "felt" ready, I'd give the Cubs the first chance for my services.

At the request of Mr. Murphy, later on, I went to Chicago and I cost them to get me my fare from South Bend to Chicago, which Mr. Murphy paid, and as Ring Lardner once said in one of his humorous stories, "he had ought to be worth two seventy-fives."

THREE OXFORD COACHES QUIT

Resignations Handed In Following Disagreement With President of Boat Club

SUGGESTED SHIFTS START DISCORD

(Canadian Press) LONDON, Feb. 6.—The Oxford crew has met with a mishap at the most vital stage of their training campaign for the great boat race with Cambridge, which takes place at the end of March. The Dark Blues, who have lost the past six races, are now back on even terms with Cambridge, each having won four of the contests.

Disagreement with President Alastair Graham of the Oxford University Boat Club, led to the resignation of three coaches—J. P. Mallan, Major Wiggins, and A. R. Graham. Graham insisted that he retain a place in the crew. He is adamant in his refusal to give up within his rights, being in sole charge of the crew and training. The president appoints the coaches, which makes the disagreement all the more surprising. The incident received some unfavorable comment, though the Star applauds Graham as the type of man who makes great leaders. The Star considers Graham the best man for the bow or No. 7, where he has been rowing. Coaches, however, think J. Tinnen, a brother of the famous 1912 Oxford Blue, is a more suitable man for the place. But Graham, though the Star's champion, introduced drama into this year's race. He has only to go on and win to confound the critics. Wellington, Roberts, Haig, and others have done such things; why not Graham?

FRANKIE GENARO LOSES ON FOUL

New Yorker Disqualified for Hitting German Fighter Low Before Ten Thousand Fans

BERLIN, Feb. 6.—Frankie Genaro, of New York, threw away his chance for an easy victory when he was disqualified for fouling in the seventh round of a ten-round fight with Harry Stein, of Germany, here tonight. Genaro, weighing 113 pounds, conceded Stein has seven pounds and apparently was coasting into an easy triumph when the referee stepped in and awarded the decision to the German. Genaro had been warned several times for alleged low punching. Some boxing critics in the audience of 10,000, though the Star's champion, were fair and that he was the victim of an unjust decision, but the large majority jeered the American and loudly cheered the referee's action.

POLICE ARE GIVEN GOOD DESCRIPTION

COURTENAY, Feb. 6.—Two hold-up men made a sudden appearance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Hall, two miles out of the city, just before noon today. Mr. Hall was sitting at the table and Mrs. Hall was standing by the fire. The men entered the house, seized the purse from the table and took out $12. The second man remained on the veranda keeping watch, and, on being joined by his accomplice, both men made off through the fence into the bush.

Mrs. Hall immediately telephoned the local police station and the police were very quickly on the scene. Mrs. Hall was able to give a fairly good description of the men as about thirty years of age and both dressed in raincoats, with grey felt hats.

CONFERENCE TO PREVENT TROUBLE

Proposed Duncan-North Cowichan School Act Amendment Is Under Consideration

DUNCAN, Feb. 6.—School consolidation as it affects Duncan and North Cowichan appears to be in jeopardy as a result of today's meeting of the North Cowichan Council. The city had demanded that the Duncan-North Cowichan School Act be amended so as to make it clear that the cost of any action for damages arising from an accident in connection with the transporting pupils to and from school be borne by North Cowichan. At present Duncan bears no portion of the cost of transporting North Cowichan pupils, but the city solicitor has advised that Duncan would be held jointly responsible with North Cowichan for damages in the case of an accident.

The school board, in considering the city's demand, has asked for a meeting of representatives of the two councils and of its own body to consider the situation. Today, the North Cowichan Council appointed Reeve Tisdall and Councillor Buckmaster to act on this committee, and has instructed them to protest against bearing the full cost of transportation as it is at present doing. It is difficult to see any mutually satisfactory compromise being found for such divergent views.

Either council may terminate consolidation by giving one year's notice of its intention to do so. A request from the Maple Bay Ratepayers' Association asking for fire protection equipment was laid over for consideration.

A request from the Women's Institute asking the council to reconsider its previous decision to not grant aid for maintaining a restaurant in Duncan was turned down.

MISS BETH EMERY PRESENTS RECITAL

NANAIMO, Feb. 6.—In St. Andrew's First United Church last evening before a large audience Miss Beth Emery presented a recital of well-known local and who has won innumerable honors in musical competitions, rendered a delightful recital of vocal and piano selections. Beth is only sixteen years of age, and the way she presented her masterly presentations of well-known compositions was of big surprise to her audience. In her vocal selections she was materially assisted by Mr. Andrew Dunsmore, A.L.C.M., who played accompaniments, creating an excellent background. Miss Emery's voice shows great promise, her diction and phrasing being outstanding points. Three numbers, "Among the Willows" (Phillips), "Wiehse" (Hoffmann) and "The Swallow" (Hoffmann) were particularly suited to her voice, and fine applause sounded the general approval of her efforts.

Her piano selections, which occupied the major part of her programme, included Gounod, Liszt, Schubert, Mozart, Beethoven, Bach, Paquin and other well-known composers. While she was applauded for her finished interpretations of the difficult compositions, the audience demanded an encore for her Chopin mazurka, Nocturne in B Flat Minor and Adagio from the "Moonlight Sonata," and Sonata in A by Mozart.

Miss Emery's recital was acclaimed supreme by all those in attendance. Her performance was not only a treat for the first time marveled at her ability and her knowledge of music.

HOSPITAL AID WILL BE GIVEN

Ladysmith Institution Arranges for Contribution on Monthly Basis

LADYSMITH, Feb. 6.—Mayor Reid was in the chair when the council met Wednesday evening. A communication was read from Mrs. Siler. She complained of surface water lodging in the alley adjacent to her property and from there flowing under the building. The streets committee is to look into the matter and see that the alley is put in better condition, if possible.

An offer was received from Mr. John Jones to purchase from the city a lot on the corner of Galtara Street and Fourth Avenue for the sum of $26. The offer was accepted. The finance committee's report was received and bills to the amount of $1,086.93 passed for payment. The regular reports of the electric light and streets committees were read and passed. The firewarden's report was received and bills to the amount of $1,086.93 passed for payment. The regular reports of the electric light and streets committees were read and passed. The firewarden's report was received and bills to the amount of $1,086.93 passed for payment.

Re Duncan vs. school trustees legal case, the mayor officially reported the result of the action.

In reference to the resignation of a school trustee received and left over from last meeting, it was unanimously decided that an election be held to fill the vacancy.

The sum of $1,000 is to be paid to the hospital in monthly installments from March 1, continuing throughout the year. The hospital board was given to understand that if it was in straits for funds by the end of the year another request might be made to the city for a donation, and that it would receive consideration.

It was thought that the city and the board of trade ought to work together, and with this idea in view an industrial committee was appointed to join forces with the board in forwarding the commercial interests of the city and district.

Some discussion followed as to the best means of dealing with the sidewalks and drains, as the frost had caused considerable upheaval. The probable cost of the general upkeep of the streets throughout this year was gone into.

COMPETITION ON PACIFIC COMING

Steamship Official From Montreal Tells of Empress of Japan

VANCOUVER, Feb. 6.—"Vancouver must prepare itself for increased competition in Pacific shipping," he said, "has set the ball rolling to extend and enhance its functions and to try and divert from San Francisco and Los Angeles some of the increasing traffic of these two energetic ports. New York is busy herself to find room for 1,000-foot liners, while Quebec is building a dock of 1,500 feet, with up-to-date facilities for the big liners. Cherbourg is building new docks for the bigger Atlantic liners which can safely be prophesied for the future.

"For the first time," Mr. Baird continued, "the United States and Japan are challenging the Empress of the Canadian Pacific for pride and place on the Pacific. With the aid of government finance Japan is putting into commission three new fast liners and in 1932 the United States will have two ships contesting the Empress for premier position. The American Government not only provides cheap money for building new ships, but by mail contracts makes it more economical for American owners to operate their ships against competitors."

With the advent of the Pacific of the new Canadian Pacific Empress of Japan, expected next August, the C.P.R., with this new Leviathan of 26,000 tons and twenty-one knots speed, will still retain for Canada the pride of possessing the largest, fastest and finest steamship on the Pacific, the steamship manager stated. "And the continuation of abnormal economic situations in Europe prolongs the opportunity given to Canada to create and stimulate traffic to and from the Orient," he added.

In spite of unusual internal conditions China is fifth among nations of the world in its gain in exports since 1913, Mr. Baird pointed out in showing the importance of Orient trade. "Since 1913 China's exports have increased from $306,000,000 to $509,000,000. China gained $46,000,000 in 1928 alone," he said.

The nations of Asia possess the largest increase in aggregate export trade since 1913, Mr. Baird said, "and Japan is embarking on new efforts to stimulate tourist trade to its attractive country while the Philippines have organized a new tourist bureau to draw visitors to their islands."

Posthumous Award Is Made to Flyers Who Perished in Morocco

(Canadian Press Cable) LONDON, Feb. 6.—The Royal Aero Club yesterday awarded posthumously its gold medal, the highest honor in its power, to Squadron Leader Jones-Williams and Flight Lieutenant Jenkins, whose heroic attempt at a nonstop flight from England to Capetown ended disastrously on the Moroccan deserts with the loss of their lives.

Before attempting this flight last December, the two Air Force flyers had succeeded in a flight from England to India. The award was announced by the Royal Aero Club at a dinner held by the club last night.

Chinese Merchant Wanted by Police Is Captured in Chicago and Brought to Serve Term

VANCOUVER, Feb. 6.—Oskalla on Tuesday welcomed more or less warmly one Wah Lung, alias Wong Wa, Wong Seong, Yue Ling, Jack Kow, an ex-convict Chinese, in charge of the province in April, 1928, abandoning his bonds of $10,000.

Wong Wa was a prominent Chinese merchant of Victoria, and in March of 1928 was arrested by Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers, charged with selling opium, and was convicted and sentenced to three years and a fine of $350 and costs. He appealed the decision, and while out on bail pending the hearing of the appeal, he vanished.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police have, as usual, quietly carried on an active search for the man, and he was finally located in Chicago, where he had opened up a business and was doing well. He also was about to open a branch business in New York.

Under the recent parole treaty between the United States and Canada, which went into effect a few months ago, it is possible to extradite persons convicted of Narcotic Act violations. Under this treaty the Canadian authorities took action to have Wong Wa extradited.

JUST LIKE A WOMAN

The portly gentleman who had been engaged to sing in the musical programme following a dinner at a large restaurant was looking very enraged. He was scanning the list of musical items, and, to his consternation, his name had been omitted.

Approaching one of the organizers, he brandished the programme furiously and demanded the reason of the omission. The young fellow whom he approached glanced down the card, then laughed nervously. "Aren't you Signor Jelly, the singer?" he asked.

"Yes," was the reply.

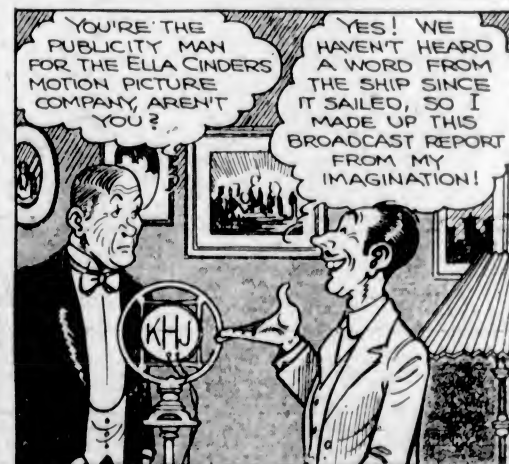

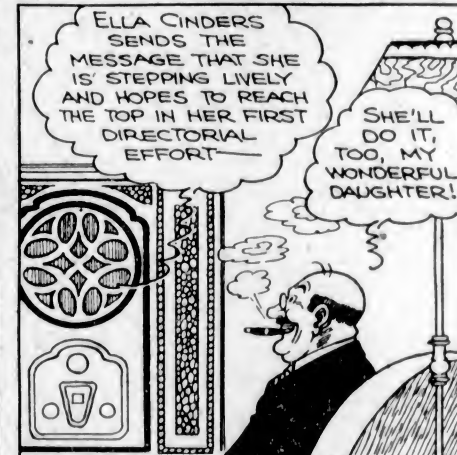

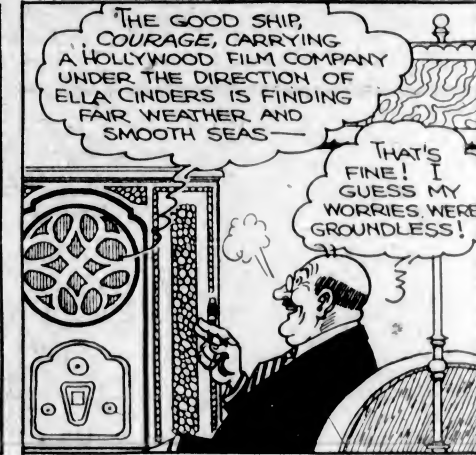

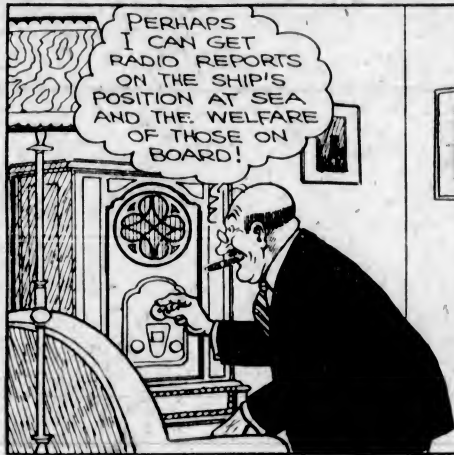

"Well—er—your name being telly," said the young chap, "it appears to have been put on the menu as a mistake."

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The new British airship, R-100, is not considered suitable for use in tropical climates, and consequently her operation will be confined, for some time at least, to northern latitudes, said Hon. F. Montague, Under-Secretary for Air in Parliament yesterday.

Mr. Montague explained the R-100 was fitted with gasoline engines, which would be highly dangerous in the extreme heat of the tropics. The R-100 is to make her trial flight from Britain to Canada in the spring.

Between Twelve and One

By VERNON LODGE

CHAPTER XXIX
Clive had just breakfasted and was smoking his cigarette and looking at his morning paper when Cobham arrived.

"Early as usual, superintendent," he said as the other came in. "But I forgot. This is the great day, isn't it? You want to go down at once?"

"If you don't mind, sir," said the other, refusing a cigarette and fidgeting more than was his wont. "We want to be playing, if we can, before our man comes on the ground."

"We'll go round for the car now," said Clive. "Just a moment while I get my cap and club." They lost no time in getting away, and were soon rapidly driving down to Hstable. Clive was excited now; Cobham quiet and serious.

"I may have a wire coming to me, sir," he said after a little. "You don't mind my having asked for it to be addressed to you?"

"Not a bit. You mean a wire to the golf club?"

"Quite, sir. I was going to ask if it could be brought on out to us at the course, if we happened to be playing at the time."

Clive nodded. "That is easily arranged. We'll give a bob to the caddy master to have it sent out. Do you know what time this man will arrive?"

"I don't, but I shall later."

"If this is all a fake on his part, he may not play at all."

"I think he will, sir. If he kept coming to the club and not playing, it would look odd."

They said very little more during the rest of the drive. The superintendent was incubating his final action, while Clive, though not less excited, was beginning to realize that this might be a serious affair.

He knew that English criminals did not usually carry firearms, but their use was not unknown, and a man who had committed a murder and robbery might be inclined to employ any means to save himself from arrest.

Of course he had great faith in his companion. Cobham was a man who had arrested a good many in his time, before he had ended up as superintendent of the Hindon force, and probably he would trust more to surprise than to an open attack on his man. Between the two of them at any rate they ought to be able to bottle the ruffian.

Clive had been made an honorary member through the good offices of his local friend, but the friend did not turn up that morning, and a quarter of an hour after they had reached the clubhouse, Cobham drove off from the first tee.

Six or seven couples had gone on ahead of them, but the rush would be later in the day, when the city men, released from business, would snatch a hasty lunch and race over for a round.

If Cobham was usually a rabbit, such as a novice generally is, today he seemed to have struck an extraordinary streak of luck. He drove like a champion, pitted with deadly accuracy, and surprised Clive by reaching the green at the fifth with a drive and a shot with his iron.

"See how the occasion takes us," said Clive, laughing. "It makes me foolish and does you good."

"Duffers luck, sir," smiled the other. "I daresay I shall make a mess of it from this on."

But he continued to play well, and only missed a shot at the eleventh hole, when a boy came hurrying from the clubhouse with a telegram in his hand.

"Ain't one of you gents Mr. Merton?" he inquired.

Cobham grounded his club and bit his lip, nervous for the first time since he had come on the links. Clive Merton went a shade paler, then took the telegram and tipped the boy.

He passed the wire to Cobham, who tore it open, glanced at it, and handed it back.

Cobham looked at his watch, calculated something, and nodded to his companion.

"I think we can finish the round easily, sir, before he gets here, however he comes."

Clive noticed that their caddy was staring at them curiously. He smiled. "Right! Come along. I have this for a half, I think." Then he added in a low voice: "If you could arrange for an arrest every time you played, you would be champion in no time!"

Cobham and he went on quietly. Luckily there was no impatient crowd behind them at the time. As they drove off from the tee and walked off towards the next green, Clive asked a low question:

"What is the plan now? Do we meet him on the links or go back after the round and pick him up?"

"I had meant to get him at the clubhouse, sir, but now I think it is better not. For one thing there will be a good many there and then people get in your way and hamper you if your man makes a bolt. I've known people with the best intentions crowd the police and spoil an arrest."

"Well, you know best," said Clive.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH REMEDY FOR CATARRH, CATARRH, DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of someone who is troubled with catarrh of the ear, head noise or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them. They will have the means of saving some poor suffering people from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease, and necessarily require constitutional treatment.

Herapath's Inula and nose drops are able to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear where frequently means total deafness. Also the disease may be driven down the air passages under the lungs, which is equally as dangerous. The following formula, which is used extensively in the Homeopathic Clinic, is a constitutional treatment, and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Rescue from your drugstore 1 ounce of Herapath's (double strength) Take this twice a day and add to it a pint of hot water and a little strained sugar. Stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from deafening head noise. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the ear is reduced. Paracetamol used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh of head noise, or is hard of hearing, should give this treatment a trial.
